Viets Harass Peace Force

SAIGON (AP) — Tough cop tactics of the South Vietnamese guards at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Air Base are jarring the delicate peacekeeping machinery.

The Polish and Hungarian delegations to the International Commission for Control and Supervision are threatening to move their troops out of the commission's compound at the base and take up quarters in downtown Saigon.

Sources close to the commission say the Poles are furious because their chief delegate, Bogdan Wasilewski, has been stopped several times at the gates and required to show his identity cards although his car was flying the commission flag. Once, he was forced to let his car be searched.

The Hungarians, most of them senior officers in distinctive pointed caps, object strongly to having to pass through the guard posts of another nation, particularly one whose peacekeeping activities they are supposed to be monitoring.

Canadian officers in limousines and scout cars flying the red Maple Leaf flag have been delayed for as long as four hours at the main gate in almost invariably futile attempts to escort Canadian and U.S. journalists to their compound.

"I try to hang as much shoulder out the window as possible every time I go past that guard point so they'll see the gold bars. But it doesn't always work," said a Canadian colonel.

The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese members of the Joint Military Commission say they complained this week to William H. Sulpivan, visiting U.S. deputy assistant secretary of state for East Asian affairs, about their virtual imprisonment in a run-down barracks compound in a remote corner of Tan Son Nhut.

Since their arrival in Saigon, the Communist delegates to the four-party commission have let it be known that they welcome contact with Western journalists. The South Vietnamese government blandly insists it is not preventing anyone from contacting them inside their heavily guarded compound; but, every time a reporter approaches the gates, he is "detained" and his press credentials are lifted.

Pham Duong Hien, the government's press chief, told newsmen last week that the government had no objections to their making contact with the Communists at their compound. He assured them that their difficulties at the airport were the result of a "lack of coordination" between officials and the airport authorities.

Like the Vietnamese air force, Tan Son Nhut always has been a more or less independent center of power, politically apart from, and sometimes openly defiant of, the presidential palace and the downtown politicians.

Two North Vietnamese representatives of the Joint Military Commission ran into trouble today in Hue, where a dozen South Vietnamese surrounded their car, beat on it with bamboo sticks and wet one of the men with some sort of liquid thrown into the car. The assailants backed away when an escort of South Vietnamese MPs got out of their car, and the North Vietnamese were not hurt. They lodged a complaint with the International Commission.

The Vietnamese in Hue are particularly bitter against the North Vietnamese because of the massacre of thousands of civilians there by the Communists during the 1968 Tet offensive.

The United States asked the Saigon government today to investigate Communist charges that tear-gas grenades were fired into their compound at Tan Son Nhut Wednesday night. A North Vietnamese spokesman said about 60 tear gas shells hit the compound and about 60 members of the Viet Cong delegation were affected.

A South Vietnamese spokesman claimed that the incident involved mosquito spray, not tear gas, and said it was "a very funny story."

Tax Sharing Up For Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Gilligan administration's $92.3 million federal revenue sharing bill was called up for passage in the Ohio House today with majority Democrats predicting it would go to the Senate unchanged.

The big spending bill would allocate the state's share of federal funds from Jan. 1, 1972, to July 1, 1973, in a way prescribed by Gov. John Gilligan and over objections of minority Republicans. They sought unsuccessfully to change spending priorities in the House Finance Committee, and were expected to offer floor amendments.

But Rep. Harry J. Lehman, D-16 Cleveland, said after a Democratic caucus on the measure Wednesday: "We expect it to be passed exactly as it is, without change."

Democrats control the House 58-41, but there are a few who disagree with certain features of the bill and may seek GOP help to make changes, spokesmen said.

Bill introductions and committee activity highlighted a busy legislative day Wednesday with the exception of a gentle skirmish in the Senate over its decision to keep up tradition and bar the press and public from Rules Committee sessions.

Two amendments were offered to the Senate's session rules which would have relaxed the outright secrecy concept approved by the Rules Committee 9-0 on Tuesday in the presence of reporters. Both amendments were defeated by margins of more than two-to-one.

Sen. Thomas A. Van Meter, R-19 Ashland, a freshman member, sought to require that the entire Senate would have to vote by a two-thirds majority to close any committee meeting. Opponents, who argued the vote among committee members was sufficient, prevailed 22-8.

Sen. Paul R. Matia, R-25 Westlake, in another futile amendment, sought to require the powerful Rules Committee to file recorded votes of members in the clerk's office after adjournment of each meeting. He was voted down 23-8.

Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray, R-3 Columbus, defended the idea of keeping closed the deliberations of the Rules Committee, which he said has been the practice since the days of our founding fathers.

"He maintained, with other senators, that the public doesn't want or seek to know what goes into every aspect of political decision-making. 'Democracy in its true form doesn't work,' Gray asserted.

In other developments, two proposed constitutional amendments to pay a Vietnam veterans' bonus and provide for tandem election of the governor and lieutenant governor hit snags in Senate committees. Both have been approved by the House, and must be certified to the Secretary of State by Feb. 22 to get on the May ballot, as sponsors intended.

A Senate subcommittee voted 3-0 to reject financing the $300 million bonus with a property tax increase, as proposed by the House, and instead to pay off the bonds out of the general revenue fund. The main sponsor, House Speaker Pro Tem Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston, said he will fight the change.

Senate Judiciary Chairman Paul E. Gillmor, R-2 Port Clinton, whose committee has the tandem election bill, wants it changed to require the top state officials not only to be elected as a team, but also to be nominated jointly. He said he "doesn't see how" the amendment can get out of his committee by the Feb. 22 deadline.

Otherwise, the Senate received four new bills, including proposals to remove the ceiling on the number of state examiners that may be appointed by the state auditor's office and to increase benefits of the police and firemen's pension fund.

Rep. Thomas J. Carney, D-71 Youngstown, proposed in a new House bill to require the Public Utilities Commission to collect "reliable" information on Ohio's future energy needs. "An energy crisis is afflicting Ohio and the country. Reliable information is needed before short or long range action can be taken," the Youngstown Democrat said.

OK Curb On Turkey Output Despite Rising Food Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cost of Living Council, despite prospects of the biggest foodprice increase in 22 years, has approved a recommendation that turkey farmers hold down production in 1973 in order to get higher prices.

The Agriculture Department advised turkey growers Wednesday they should not increase production this year more than 1 per cent above the 1972 record of 128 million birds if they want to avoid low prices.

Asst. Secretary of Agriculture Clayton Yeutter, who oversees marketing programs, said the council readily approved the recommendation.

"It's purely a matter of getting some balance in the supply," Yeutter told a reporter. "I'm sure the council approved because we are calling for an increase. If we had recommended a reduction so that the supply for the year would have been less we'd have had some flak."

In most market situations, lowering the supply tends to increase prices.

Two weeks ago Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz announced that the Agriculture Department would no longer issue "marketing guides" to farmers without council approval. The turkey guide was the first since the review was initiated by the administration as part of an attempt to hold down rising retail food prices. Other guides—which advise farmers how best to increase their earnings—are issued during the year for such items as broiler chickens, eggs, vegetables and potatoes.

Turkey, along with broiler chicken, is a favorite alternative of housewives plagued by high prices for beef and pork. Experts claim more cattle and hogs will go to market next fall and thus reduce part of the need for more poultry.

Three Receive YMCA Service Awards During Annual Meeting Wednesday

Supporters of the Pickaway County Family YMCA gathered Wednesday evening for its annual dinner and meeting, electing new directors and officers for the coming year.

Richard Penn assumed the chairmanship of the YMCA, taking over the office held last year by Richard L. Davis.

A highlight of the dinner was the second presentation of the Service to Youth Awards. Recipients of the award this year were The Circleville Herald, WNRE-FM and the Pickaway Motel Corporation.

Accepting the awards for these organizations were Dave Amey, of the newspaper; P. J. Ryle of the radio station and Otto Guenther, for the motel corporation which annually grants the YMCA free use of its swimming pool for the pre-school swim classes.

The Indian Guide Recognition Award was made to Randy Clark, who headed the Indian Guide program here until his transfer to New Jersey.

Those present were entertained, following a dinner served by the Women's Society of the Community

United Methodist Church, by the Elks Singers of the Circleville lodge. The group offered several selections in barbershop quartet-style harmony.

Speaker for the evening was Herbert E. Evans, retired president of Nationwide Communications, Inc. He offered informal commentary, often witty and wry, presenting his views on life today and yesterday.

He included in his message a plea for Pickaway County citizens to support youth and YMCA activities.

One of the programs of the Y being planned for the future is construction of a new and larger YMCA building, to offer programs now impossible because of the restricted location of the old armory.

The organization is looking ahead to be able to serve Pickaway County citizens—youth and adult—for many years to come.

Important for this growth is the work of the board of directors. During the annual meeting, the membership re-elected six current board members to second terms to expire in 1976. These were Mrs. David Bolender, Michael F. Bruno, Don Collins, Michael Harrison, Robert Johnson and William Smith. New board members chosen for three-year terms were Robert Ogden, James Butler and Carson Shaeffer.

Elected to fill unexpired terms of retiring board members were Sam Sberna, Johnny Dunlap III and Donald Metzler.

1973 President Richard Penn will be working with these officers for the coming year: Rev. Carl Zehner, first vice president; Michael F. Bruno, second vice president; Mrs. Norman Wilson, secretary and Earl W. Palm, treasurer.

The annual meeting also marks the official start of the YMCA's membership drive which will continue through Feb. 28. This committee has set a goal to top all membership records in the past.

Foul Weather Rakes Eastern United States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow, sleet ice and rain prevailed in areas east of the Mississippi River today, and cold but fair conditions prevailed for the western half of the nation.

Gale warnings were posted for much of the Great Lakes with prospects of high waves and shore erosion. A cold wave warning was issued for the upper Mississippi Valley. A storm centered in western Pennsylvania brought rain, freezing rain, sleet and snow to the eastern Ohio Valley and middle Atlantic coastal states.

Heavy snow warnings were released for Vermont, most of New York and northeast Pennsylvania.

Travelers advisories were posted for most of Pennsylvania, central Maryland, New Jersey, and southeast New York state, including New York City, Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Rain, drizzle and dense fog covered most of the Ohio Valley. Snow spread eastward from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic Coast.

In the Southeast, where record snow fell over the weekend, rain showers and thunderstorms rumbled across the region.

Air-Sea Hijack Accord Signed By U.S., Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S.-Cuban agreement to curb air and sea hijacking went into effect this morning with simultaneous signing ceremonies here and in Havana.

Although the exact text was kept under wraps prior to the actual signing, U.S. officials Wednesday night confirmed the basic effects as reported earlier by The Associated Press.

These included provisions for prosecution or extradition of persons charged with hijacking a plane or a ship and a U.S. pledge to enforce its neutrality laws barring use of American property or soil to harass Cuba.

The pact is not retroactive and will not affect hijackers who already have fled to one country or the other.

In addition, the United States retains its traditional policy of accepting as a political refugee a person who arrives without having endangered the crew or passengers of a ship or plane.

This had been a problem in the 2½ months of negotiations. Cuba originally wanted the agreement to cover such acts as the seizing of a crewless or passengerless craft.

The result of the negotiations, which were conducted indirectly through the Swiss ambassadors in Havana and Washington, were described as highly satisfactory from the U.S. view.

Officials said the agreement would be both a real and psychological block for hijackers. But in spite of these benefits, the American officials repeated that the agreement is not considered an opening to better general relations with Cuba.

They say President Nixon has not changed his position of last November when he said the Fidel Castro government would have to change its generally hostile attitude toward Washington and stop its policy of exporting revolution to other hemispheric nations.

U.S. officials said Cuba was eager for a settlement and therefore willing to concede American positions.

The Havana government was said to be increasingly embarrassed by hijackers who ordered planes flown to Havana.

Each time, amid the crisis atmosphere that has prodded Congress to quick action, there have been demands for legislation to create permanent machinery so that the government can cope with future emergencies.

Each time, the pressure has ebbed with postponement and eventual settlement of the walkout.

President Nixon has proposed emergency-strike legislation in the past, although the administration, anxious to gain labor votes, did not press the issue in the last election year.

Presumably it will be revived in one of the President's messages to Congress.

Bills to empower the government to deal with future strikes already have been introduced in both House and Senate, one of them by Sen. Robert P. Griffin of Michigan, the Republican whip and chief sponsor of past administration proposals.

Griffin said there must be long-term action to "get Congress out of the labor arbitration-business" of dealing with each strike and its issues only after a walkout is under way.

His proposal, similar to the terms the administration recommended to the last Congress, would empower the president to order cooling-off periods of up to 110 days to head off transportation strikes that threaten the national health or safety.

In the Penn Central strike, Congress ordered a 90-day cooling-off period, until May 9, with the administration to report in the interim on negotiating progress and recommendations for settlement.

In the House, Rep. J. J. Pickle, D-Tex., said the only bill with a chance of passing would be one including provisions distasteful to both labor and management.

In simplest terms, government seizure or operation of a strike-bound industry is the alternative most distasteful to management, compulsory arbitration is anathema to labor. Both possibilities are raised by most of the proposed measures, although varying forms of arbitration loom as the likely final solution to any dispute that defied negotiated settlement.

Pickle said Congress itself has become a sort of super arbitration panel. "Believe me, a 535-man arbitration board is no way to run a railroad," he said.

Congress Drags Feet On National Strikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite periodic promises and rhetoric, Congress is still dealing crisis-by-crisis with the problem of transportation strikes that threaten to create national emergencies.

The latest such episode was that of the Penn Central Railroad strike, stopped by law within hours after it began.

It was a familiar exercise, something that has happened eight times within six years, as Congress acted on special legislation to deal with transportation strikes.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market recovered slowly from an opening drop today as the dollar seemed to stabilize in foreign exchange markets in Europe.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was off 1.36 at 978.55, up from a better than 4-point decline in the first hour of trading. Losers held a slightly narrowed 718 to 444 edge over gainers on the New York Stock Exchange in moderate trading.

Analysts said the market was especially sensitive to the dollar's foreign exchange fortunes. Investors were searching for concrete signs of trends in the international monetary crisis, brokers said.

The Big Board's most-active issue was Texas Gulf, up 1/8 at 24 1/2.

On the American Stock Exchange, the price-change index was down .01 to 25.46.

Homestake Mining, the nation's biggest gold producer, was up 1/2 to 30 1/2 after a 1-point advance Wednesday as gold prices continued upward in London.

Big Labor Plans Attack On Nixon's Wage Curbs

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Labor leaders voiced increasing resistance today to President Nixon's Phase 3 economic program, which continues a 5.5 per cent annual ceiling on wage hikes.

Paul Burnsky, president of the AFL-CIO Metal Trades Department, said he doubted that the federal wage guidelines would hold up in this year's coming big contract negotiations covering some 5 million workers.

Report POW Mistreatment

WATERFORD, Conn. (AP) — A freed prisoner of war returns to the United States today after what his father describes as months of imprisonment chained in a snake-and ant-infested bamboo cage.

Army Capt. George K. Wanat Jr., 27, was chained alone in the cage for five of his 10 months in Viet Cong hands, George K. Wanat Sr. of Waterford said Wednesday after talking to his son by telephone. His other five months were shared with another American, the father said.

The elder Wanat said in an interview that his son passed time with prayer and "intense study" of the ants in his cage.

"He told me he was an expert on ants now," Wanat said. Wanat said his son was in good spirits and sounded "very much like the man who left two years ago" except for a deep hatred toward his captors.

2 Children Are Slain

MONESSEN, Pa. (AP) — Two children, one 3-months-old, were beaten to death and their mother critically injured in an attack in their apartment here early today, police said.

Authorities said they were holding a 16-year-old youth in connection with the beatings.

Dead on arrival at the Charlevoix-Monessen Hospital just after midnight was 3-month-old Tina May Morgan. Attendants at the hospital said the infant had suffered severe head and brain injuries.

Sandra Morgan, 2, was transferred from the Monessen Hospital to Children's Hospital in Pittsburgh, where she was pronounced dead on arrival.

The children's mother, Alys H. Morgan, was admitted to Mercy Hospital in Pittsburgh where her condition today was listed satisfactory. The extent of her injuries was not immediately known.

Wally Cox Found Dead

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Comedian Wally Cox, television's shy "Mr. Peepers," was found dead today in his Bel Air home, city firemen said.

Firemen said they found the 48-year-old comedian dead about 7:45 a.m. after being summoned to the home. The cause of death was not immediately known.

Red China Seeks Purchase Of Warplanes From Britain

LONDON (AP) — Peking has pitched London a diplomatic curve with plans to buy or build British planes that cost hundreds of millions of dollars and have military potential.

The British, hungry for sales that would revive their sagging aircraft industry, are enthusiastic about the deal but know it could upset both the United States and the Soviet Union.

Government officials reported that two propositions by the Peking government are under negotiation with the manufacturing companies concerned.

One is for the straight purchase of the Harrier, the world's only vertical-takeoff fighter, now operational with the Royal Air Force and the U.S. Marine Corps. The Hawker Siddeley Co. demonstrated its performance last month to visiting Foreign Trade Minister Pai Hsiang-kuo and his experts. An order of up to 150 planes could be involved, each costing about $2.4 million.

The other proposition foresees the building and assembly in China under license of a long-haul British jet liner, the VC10, powered by Rolls-Royce engines. The British Aircraft Corp., builders of the Concorde supersonic jet airliner, are aware that any such deal would allow the Chinese the chance to

He was an employee of the South Central Rural Electric and a member of the Mt. Pleasant United Methodist Church and the Mt. Pleasant Grange.

Surviving are his wife, Eleanor Dean Mowery; one son, Benny Mowery, Route 2; two daughters, Mrs. Ora (Mona) Payne, Richwood; Mrs. James (Sue) Lockard, 395 Kingston Pike; six grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Alice Fellenstein, Route 2, Williamsport; Mrs. Francis Moss, Route 2, Ashville.

Services will be 10:30 a.m. Saturday in Defenbaugh Funeral Home with the Rev. Edward Linville and the Rev. Richard Crosby officiating. Burial will be in Springbank Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 7 p.m. Thursday.

The family requests memorial Gideon Bibles.

that, we'll have to start screaming too," said Edward Carrough, president of the Sheet Metal Workers Union.

Carrough's union is one of 16 AFL-CIO building trades whose wage hikes are covered by Nixon's separate Construction Industry Stabilization Committee.

Nixon left tighter wage controls on the construction unions, whose pay increases have fallen from some 18 per cent to less than 6 per cent per a year under two years of federal controls.

In another development, leaders of the 500,000-member Communications Workers of America said the wage-price control program has favored big business at the expense of workers.

Important national and allied policy decisions would be required to authorize these projects. The issues already are under top-level discussion between Prime Minister Edward Heath's government and the Nixon administration.

The official stance of the Foreign Office is that both sets of negotiations, for the time being, are the concern of the companies.

The matter of granting export licenses would arise only after the Chinese placed firm contractual orders.

Kissinger In Peking

TOKYO, Japan (AP) — Presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger today began five days of talks with Chinese leaders in Peking in an attempt to advance the improvement of relations between the United States and China.

Kissinger and the 17 members of his party were greeted at Peking airport by Foreign Minister Chi Peng-fei and other Chinese officials after a flight from Hong Kong via Shanghai, the official Hsinhua news agency reported.

Hsinhua described the talks as "concrete consultations with Chinese leaders to further the normalization of relations."

Kissinger spent two days resting in Hong Kong after his weekend visit to Hanoi. From Peking, he will fly to Tokyo, en route back to the United States.

During his Hong Kong stay, Kissinger refused to discuss his China visit, but his talks are expected to cover American and Chinese roles in the Vietnam cease-fire, as well as the broadening relations between Peking and Washington.

POW Discounts Antiwar Stand

CLARK AIR BASE, Philippines (AP) — Statements against the Vietnam war by American prisoners in Hanoi "were made from prison" and "we should consider the source," a senior American POW said today.

Air force Col. Robinson Risner of Oklahoma City, Okla., who had antiwar statements attributed to him by Hanoi Radio, made the comment in answer to a question at the first news conference given by any of the prisoners released Monday.

Risner and Marine Col. John H. Dunn of Jacksonville, Fla., both prisoners of war for seven years, met newsmen for 15 minutes. They avoided questions about prison life on grounds that their answers might be detrimental to the men still held.

Newsman, Indians Testify On Stolen Document Return

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury today refused to indict a reporter and two Indians on charges of possessing documents stolen from the Bureau of Indian Affairs last fall.

After the grand jury's decision was read to investigative reporter Les Whitten and Indians Hank Adams and Anita Collins, the government moved that the case be dropped.

Whitten, in a hallway interview afterward, said he felt the government had wanted to show that he and his boss, syndicated columnist Jack Anderson, had paid for the three cardboard cartons of documents. They had not, he said.

The FBI arrested Whitten and Adams Jan. 31 as they carried three cartons allegedly containing the stolen documents from Adams' apartment to Whitten's car. Adams says he was returning the documents to the FBI, via the BIA, and that he had asked Whitten to assist him in exchange for an exclusive story. Miss Collins, the government says, picked up the documents at a bus station the previous night, allegedly accompanied by a police informer who posed as an Apache.

The government contends the three intended to convert the stolen

Planeload Of Returnees In California

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Forty more liberated American prisoners of war arrive here today, following the joyous Valentine's Day arrival of 20 men who had been in Communist hands for as long as eight years.

"For over seven years that I was a prisoner of war, I never shed a tear. In the last two days, I've shed many tears — not of sadness, but of joy," was Lt. Col. Harlan P. Chapman's homecoming comment.

The Fremont, Calif., officer, the first returning Marine, was among the first planeload of former POWs to arrive Wednesday at Travis, the jumping-off point for 2.2 million fighting men over the past decade.

Two other former prisoners arrived home Tuesday under less happy circumstances — to go to the bedsides of seriously ill mothers.

The 40 former prisoners of war arriving today are to be aboard two aircraft making the long trans-Pacific flight from Clark Air Base in the Philippines. The first is scheduled to land at about 1 p.m. EST and the second two hours later.

It was a subdued, militarylike but emotional homecoming at this sprawling base 50 miles northeast of San Francisco on Wednesday — the low-key reception President Nixon had requested.

A cheering, flag-waving crowd of 2,000 — mostly base personnel and military families — greeted the homecoming plane from behind rope barricades.

News reports here identified the informer as a District of Columbia policeman John G. Arelland. Anderson said the grand jurors questioned him on whether "Les had spoken to me in advance about plans to return the documents—and he had—and whether he had paid for the documents." He said the documents had been offered to Whitten free.

Tecumseh Theme To Be Recorded By London Symphony

A generous donation to the Scioto Society has enabled the group to engage the London Symphony Orchestra to record the theme music for the production of "Tecumseh."

The anonymous donor specified that the funds were to be used for the purpose of providing the music for the drama.

Negotiations with Harold Lawrence, general manager of the London Symphony, set up the stereophonic recording session which will take place Tuesday and Wednesday at th Wathamstow Town Hall recording studios in London, England.

Rusty Mundell, producer of "Tecumseh," will leave for London Sunday. He will be accompanied by Erich Kunzel, director of the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, who is familiar with the suite and played for the dedication.

The raw tapes will be brought back and edited by Allan Levey who is the sound technician for "Tecumseh."

Deputies Check 2 Theft Reports

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies are investigating two theft reports received Wednesday.

Harry Feldman of the Teays Valley Ranch, Route 2, Ashville, told deputies that thieves took three medium brown western saddles and plaid blankets from an open shed on the ranch.

The saddles, inscribed with the initials TVR, are valued at $120.

Someone stole a clock radio, valued at $25, after breaking into the Ashville Grain Co. Ralph Barr, manager of the plant, said the thieves gained entrance to the building on the south side of an elevator.

Budget Confrontation

Congress has not begun to act officially on the presidential budget, but sufficient reaction has been expressed by individual members to indicate sharp exception will be taken to some of the budget's features. That is not an unusual reaction because many representatives and senators have their own ideas how federal taxes should be spent.

Committee testimony and debate in either the House or Senate usually reaches a peak of intensity when appropriations are under discussion. It is a rare Congress which does not make an attempt to write some of its own appropriation bills with little regard for White House wishes.

This year the debate could be particularly heated. The budget includes nothing for dozens of past favorite projects of Congress. It is an attempt by the administration to clear out some of the dead wood.

It would be almost an impossibility for Congress to reach the same conclusion on each of the affected programs.

Rennie Davis Confesses

By JEFFREY HART

Many people, probably a majority of Americans, sensed something fishy about large segments of the anti-war movement of the past decade. And now, in an Op-Ed column in the New York Times, Rennie Davis, letting it all hang out, has confirmed those suspicions.

Rennie Davis, you will recall, was one of the leaders of the anti-Vietnam protest movement. He figured prominently in the disruption of the Democratic National Convention in 1968. He stood trial as one of the Chicago Seven. He tried, impotently, to disrupt the Republican National Convention in Miami Beach last year.

Now he positively exults, obscenely exults, in what he is pleased to interpret as a Communist victory in Vietnam. His rhetoric must be savored.

"Recently I met with Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh," she is the Viet Cong representative at the Paris talks. Continuing with Davis: "My only disappointment was that every American could not share in the joy of Vietnam's victory." It is clear from the context that Davis completely accepts Madame Binh's self-serving interpretation of the negotiated agreement as a Communist victory, and rejoices in it. What I want to focus on now is not the question of whether Davis is right or wrong here, but on his exultation: "President Nixon's 'peace with honor' is a face-saving disguise for a 'Viet Cong victory' . . . The Vietnamese people today overflow with hope and anticipation . . ."

What is striking about this is the "war protester's" total acceptance of the Communist interpretation and the Communist vocabulary. Who, for example, are "the Vietnamese people" in the above quotation? Pursuing Davis' interpretation of the cease-fire as a Communist victory, I doubt that all Vietnamese would look to the aftermath "with hope and exultation." Many South Vietnamese have fought and are still fighting to avert Communist rule. The Vietnamese opposed to the Communists are not "people" so far as Davis is concerned.

Davis, the "war protester," is also agog over what he takes to be the success of the North Vietnamese spring offensive. "Even now the media trumpet the official propaganda line that bombs and mines crushed the powerful spring-summer offensive in Vietnam and the Christmas Hanoi-Haiphong massacre 'forced' the North Vietnamese back to 'serious negotiations.' Time will show the opposite." As confirmation of this point, Davis cites the "underlying perspective of the Vietnamese we met in Paris," which was that "the accords represented a victory that has grown out of the success of the recent spring-summer offensive."

Davis is so gleeful over what he takes to have been a Communist victory that he seems to forget from one sentence to the next what he actually has written. Thus, after his awestruck praise of the "powerful spring-summer offensive in Vietnam" — the power of which came from its massive Soviet issues of tanks, artillery, rockets, and automatic weapons — he can go on lachrymously to speak of the "men and women and children who have defeated America's military goliath."

And that last, make no mistake about it, is what Davis really savors. He was not an "anti-war" leader. He was working day and night for a Communist victory.

On January 29, Davis attended a tumultuous reception in Paris given by the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese. I do not think I will ever forget the boot-licking description he gives of it:

"It was an incredible mix of people, from high officials of the French, Soviet, People's Republic of China and other governments to ordinary people like the Vietnamese taxi drivers who were the guests of Xuan Thuy. What struck me most was the open love that so many different people showed for the Vietnamese representatives, especially Mrs. Binh, whose presence evoked a thousand embraces and tears and smiles."

Rennie Davis, the anti-war leader, was attending what he took to be a victory celebration, the victory of his side. Whether he is right or wrong about that victory, he has told us much about the protest movement. Thank you, Rennie.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Do doctors who know the dangers of drug addiction ever become hooked on drugs? We are studying this subject in our class. I want to be a doctor and I save your columns. Thank you.

Kenneth, Ohio

Dear Kenneth:

Rarely have I enjoyed a letter as much as I have yours. I have not reprinted your letter in its entirety. There are few greater pleasures than the sense that I in some way can stimulate a student to pursue the study of medicine.

The joy of being a physician is limitless and I hope you will continue in your interest in a profession that is so gratifying.

Now, about doctors and drugs. Unfortunately the forces at work that make drug addicts do not bypass any segment of society. Some doctors are as vulnerable as are people in other occupations and professions.

Drug addiction among doctors is far less common, of course, because they know so well the dangers and the destructive factors in the lives of people who are involved with drug abuse.

Let me tell you this, Kenneth, and I hope you will pass it on to your classmates.

There are many wonderful rewards and joys in learning. The beauty of poetry, the charm of music, the loveliness of painting, and the excitement of studying the sciences and the humanities must never be sacrificed to the temptation of any kind of drug.

There are many complicated forces and pressures in the equation that add up to drug addiction.

It is my hope that someone will yet find a way of reaching young people and really show them that to start with drugs is to threaten their lives.

You could be that someone.

Is anything being done to remove the dangers of the hormones used by cattle growers to fatten their stock and their profits while shortening our lives?

Miss E. G. J., Tex

Dear Miss J.:

The hazards of the hormone diethylstilbestrol, in the meat we eat are recognized as scientific truths.

It is surprising how slowly the forces of safety put sufficient pressure on cattle growers to stop using this growth promoting hormone.

Canada and France are even more visionary than the United States in controlling this injustice to those of us who eat meat. They are now suspending all use of the hormone in cattle that later will be consumed by unsuspecting buyers.

The consumers in the United States are a powerful force that can by pressure insist that their meat be free of this hormone contamination if it is definitely harmful. The delicate balance between all hormones in the body is essential to good health. No one can risk consuming unknown quantities of stilbestrol that might upset this important body function.

Never ignore persistent fever. Fever is the body's signal that an infection is present.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Deer in America, just like people, are having a population explosion. There are more than 30 times as many deer in the country today as there were in 1900, the National Shooting Sports Foundation estimates. The statistics: 500,000 in 1900, 15 million now.

How liberated are U.S. women really getting? Well, when it comes to liberating their figures, they are getting more liberated all the time. A survey by Today's Health magazine to which 11,000 of its readers responded found that 40 per cent of them are now willing to venture outside their homes without wearing a bra.

Salvaging its waste has become one of civilization's critical problems. If a way could be found to burn in power plants the 2½ billion tons of waste produced each year in the United States, the National Geographic Society says, it would generate half of today's nationwide output of electricity.

Quotable notables: "Life means living, not escaping. I'd prefer to die young than to sniff around life." — Pianist Artur Schnabel.

Safety note: Among dangerous driving habits, tailgating occupies an especially deadly place. A California study of 1,000 accidents showed 350 resulted from rear-end collisions. In cities, they led chiefly to vehicle damage; on superhighways, they often led to carnage.

Pert answer: When Dr. Jonas Salk, discoverer of the polio vaccine that bears his name, was asked why he devoted his life to research, he replied, "Why did Mozart compose music?"

Speed Work On Medicaid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state Welfare Department is moving close to its goal of processing 350,000 Medicaid claims a week, Director Charles Bates said Tuesday.

Bates told spokesmen for the Ohio Coalition for Quality Health Care that the department is starting to whittle away at its $50 million backlog in payments to providers of Medicaid services.

Checks for $7.1 million of the total debt will be in the mail by Feb. 19, he advised the coalition, a health care providers' group which has threatened court action if the state doesn't pay the bills.

Part of the problem involves a new computer system installed as a pilot project to find a way to reduce the backlog that already existed.

The problem has gotten worse since the computer took over, but Bates said the system now is "working pretty well."

Police Dispatcher Feuds With Cops

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Safety Director James T. Carney will investigate a civilian police radio dispatcher's complaint that he has been harassed ever since he charged police with responding too slowly to emergency calls.

Frank Cummings Jr., who was suspended and charged with insubordination by police after he leveled the charges last year, was reinstated by the Civil Service Commission after an investigation.

Cummings appealed to Mayor Ralph Perk this week, however, asking that Perk order police harassment to stop. Cummings said that police repeatedly ticket his car, that his tires were punctured and that the lock on his police station locker was recently filled with glue.

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matter is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

(Q) The revenue sharing question on my Federal tax form ask for my township. How can I find out what township I live in?

(A) Less than one-half of the states have organized township governments which are eligible for revenue sharing funds. These states are listed in your tax form instructions.

If you live in one of these states and in a county having organized township governments and you are not sure which township you live in, call your local county commissioner's office, tax assessor's office, city hall, etc., and describe where you live. Please do not call your Internal Revenue office.

(Q) Will the IRS be open extra hours this year to help taxpayers with their returns?

(A) Yes. During the income tax filing season most local Internal Revenue offices are open an average of eight additional hours per week. Some offices are open additional hours on weekdays, while others are remaining open on the weekend.

Your local IRS office is publicizing those extra hours it is remaining open.

(Q) I elected to have the IRS compute my tax this year. Will this slow down the refund I'm expecting?

(A) No. The IRS can compute the tax and issue a refund within 4-6 weeks from the date the return is filed with the IRS service center.

(Q) I operate my own farm. Can I claim investment credit on my livestock as well as on my tractors and other qualifying farm equipment?

(A) Yes. Livestock (other than horses) acquired by you after Aug. 15, 1971 (or before Aug. 16, 1972, but only if ordered after March 31, 1971) qualifies for the investment credit.

For more details, see IRS Publication 225, "Farmers Tax Guide." It's available free of charge from county farm agents and most Internal Revenue offices.

(Q) There's space on schedule B of my tax return for "miscellaneous deduction." What are some of these items I can deduct?

(A) If you itemize deductions on your return, the following are some of the items you can deduct as "miscellaneous deductions": political contributions (up to $50, or up to $100 if married filing jointly); cost of safety equipment, small tools, and supplies used in your job; dues to unions, professional organizations, chambers of commerce; fees you paid to employment agencies to get a job; gambling losses, but only up to the amount you won; and alimony payments.

For more information see IRS Publication 529, "Other Miscellaneous Deductions." Just fill out and mail the order blank on the back of your tax forms package to obtain a free copy.

(Q) I purchased a car for my son last year. Does the amount I paid account toward his support when I figure out whether or not I can claim him as a dependent?

(A) No. The purchase of an automobile, whether by you or your dependent, is not considered when determining total support.

Farmers Push Bargaining Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Four Ohio groups, representing nearly all of the state's 110,000 farmers, plan to push for agricultural bargaining and marketing legislation in the 110th General Assembly.

The legislation is presently being drafted by the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation. It will be presented to the Ohio State Grange, National Farmers' Union and National Farmers' Organization for their support.

C. William Swank, executive director of the Farm Bureau Federation, said, "The thrust of the bill will be to make mandatory the recognition of farmers' rights to be organized and be represented in contract negotiations."

Swank said the legislation will also "recognize the duty on the part of the contractor to negotiate in good faith with the farmers." He said the measure will have sections that force the contractors to go to court or face penalties if they violate the law.

Farmers would be permitted to organize into associations and negotiate contracts if they represented two-thirds of the farmers with half of the production or half the farmers with two-thirds of the production.

Swank emphasized, "There will be no compulsion to make the farmers join an association. They will be free to join or not join, whatever they wish."

A contractor could not pay more to a producer who was not an association member in an effort to break up the association.

He said the legislation will be aimed initially at fruits and vegetables, and may be later enlarged to include livestock, poultry and grain producers.

Fruit and vegetable processing companies now negotiate with farmers for individual contracts that may vary from one grower to another.

The legislation, Swank said, would "bring processing companies to the negotiating table. Some do it now reluctantly while others refuse outright to do it."

Eugene Abercrombie, state agriculture secretary, said, "The legislation would give producers of a given product the right to negotiate a price. The Ford Motor Co. doesn't ask what you will pay. They tell you."

"Now farmers have no control over the price," he said. "It's a matter of the farmer saying: 'Here it is. What's it worth today?'"

Similar bargaining legislation failed in the last legislature.

Swank said, "processing companies

Senators Want Home Folks To Think Of 'Just Plain Bill'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. senator makes $42,500 a year and generally is welcomed at most Washington social affairs. But many still want the folks back home to think of them as just plain Bill or Pete or Jim.

Some even insist on it.

At least four senators recently have sent out notices asking newsmen and others to use their shortened first names.

Thus, Wes Barthelme, administrative assistant to freshman Sen. Joseph R. Biden Jr., D-Del., informed newsmen the senator would like them to refer to him in news stories as Joe.

"He ran as Joe Biden and he was elected as Joe Biden and he signs his name Joe Biden," Barthelme said.

The Senate Republican conference, meanwhile, has corrected official biographies of senators to stress the shortened first names.

As in Bill for Sen. William E. Brock III, R-Tenn.; Pete for Sen. Peter V. Domenici, R-N.M., and Bob for Sen. Robert W. Packwood, R-Ore.

Some senators have it both ways. The junior Republican from Kansas uses the name Robert Dole in official Senate listings but Bob in press releases.

Others simply are known on Capitol Hill by nicknames, such as "Abe," for Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., or "Jake" or "Jack" for Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y.

And some senators have been around so long that people have forgotten when or if they were ever called by formal first names.

In his years in the Senate, very few ever have referred to Sen. Samuel J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., by his full first name. It has always been Sam.

It's also, of course, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, not Sen. Michael Mansfield.

Other Senators who stress informality include Dick—not Richard—Clark, an Iowa Democrat; Mike—not Michael—Gravel, an Alaska Democrat; Sam—not Samuel—Nunn, a Georgia Democrat, and Ted—not Theodore—Stevens, a Republican from Alaska.

Cycle Gang Members Slated For Hearings

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Twenty-three alleged members of the Outlaws motorcycle gang have been scheduled for municipal court hearings Feb. 22 on charges ranging from possession of hallucinogens to possession of a machine gun.

The 23 were arrested in a raid here Saturday and are now being held on bonds totaling $1,350,000.

The area drained by the Amazon River is so extensive it would cover three-fourths of the United States.

MISS SHIRLEY MOODY

Rainbow Girls Installation Conducted In Masonic Temple

The 26th Installation of officers of the Marie L. Hamilton Assembly 170, Order of the Rainbow for girls, was held recently in the Masonic Temple. Miss Shirley Moody assumed the duties of worthy advisor for the February-May term.

Miss Sue Heffelfinger, grand lecturer of District 16 and past worthy advisor of the Circleville Assembly, served as installing worthy advisor for the evening.

Assisting Miss Heffelfinger were: first marshal, Miss Kathy Litter, Jr. past worthy advisor; second marshal, Miss Patty Spring, worthy advisor of Chillicothe; chaplain, Miss Gail Brunner, grand pro-tem and a past worthy advisor of Portsmouth.

Recorder, Miss Pamela Willard, worthy advisor of Portsmouth; musician, Miss Nanisa Anderson, Circleville; soloists, Miss Suzanne Spalding, past grand representative to Oregon and a past worthy advisor of Circleville and Miss Nancy Clifton, past worthy advisor of Circleville. Mrs. William Clifton pronounced the benediction.

Kathy Baker, worthy advisor of Waverly was in charge of the guest book. She was assisted by Miss Linda Campbell, worthy advisor of Lucasville, who distributed the pin-ons and Miss Susie Ervin and Miss Beth Clifton of the local assembly who served as hostesses.

Miss Moody was escorted by the first marshal to the altar where she received her jewel of office and made her vows pledging obedience to her station. She knelt at the altar for silent prayer while Miss Heffelfinger read a poem by Daniel Campbell entitled "Faith" and for singing of "Look To The Rainbow" by Suzanne Spalding.

Other officers who received their jewels of office were Miss Susie Ervin, worthy associated adviser; Miss Patricia Kibler, chairty; Miss Beth Clifton, hope; Miss Mary Gay Wood, faith; Miss Patricia Becker, recorder; Miss Sandra Rector, treasurer; Miss Cathy Thompson, chaplain; Miss Debbie Coey, drill leader; Miss Cheryl LeMay, love; Miss Sylvia Garner, religion; Miss Karen Spangler, nature; Miss Joyce Hoffman, immortality.

Miss Mary Garner, fidelity; Miss Paula Allison, patriotism; Miss Cathy Jones, service; Miss Robin Ervin, confidential observer; Miss Pam Sturgell, outer observer; Miss Judy Bobo, musician and Miss Melissa Archer, choir director.

The ceremonies were then handed to Mrs. Betty Milliron, grand deputy of District 16, who installed the new mother adviser, Miss Jacqueline Layton and the advisory board for the coming year.

Members of the board are: Mrs. Billie Osborne, chairman; Geroge Wood, vice chairman; Mrs. Alice Ann Wood, secretary; Robert Litter, Mrs. Linda Litter, James Osborne, Mrs. Opal Vance, Mrs. Betty LeMay, Mrs. Pauline Smallwood, Mrs. Sharon Beadle, Mrs. Kathryn Thomerson and Miss Marie Hamilton.

The new worthy advisor was then given command of her office. She explained her theme, "Forever The Rainbow." Miss Moody chose Genesis 9:13 as her Scripture "I do set my bow in the cloud and it shall be for a token of the covenant between me and the earth." Her motto is "Search, Find And Achieve;" colors, those of the rainbow; flowers, those of God's flower garden and her symbol, the rainbow.

Miss Moody instructed the drill leader to present her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tucker, to the East where they received a special introduction. Her grandfather presented her with a gavel denoting

Gilligan Probes Limousine Deal

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Gov. John J. Gilligan has announced his office will investigate a report that a Cleveland businessman provided Cadillacs at reduced prices to two state officials.

Ohio Industrial Chairman M. Holland Krise and Walter E. Taylor, an administrator with the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation, drove the vehicles under an agreement with Patrick J. Casey, the president of Workmen's Compensation Service Co. in Cleveland.

The arrangement reportedly involved Casey's selling the cars to the men each year and then buying them back at nearly the same price.

Columbus Shooting Death 'Accidental'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Columbus police said the shooting death of George Gardner, 36, of the city's east side was apparently accidental.

Police said Margaret Smothers, 36, also of Columbus, told them Gardner handed her a pistol and it discharged accidentally.

There are 865 species of trees registered as native to the continental United States.

Ohio Abortion Law Void, U.S. District Judge Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's 132-year-old abortion law was declared unconstitutional Wednesday by U.S. District Court Judge Joseph P. Kinneary.

The judge's ruling said the Ohio statute violates the woman's right to privacy which includes the right to decide whether or not to terminate her pregnancy.

The ruling came in a suit filed by the American Civil Liberties Union of Ohio. It sought a temporary and

State Office Contractors Are Fined

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Contractors at the state office building construction site in downtown Columbus were fined a total of nearly $13,000 Wednesday for safety violations.

James A. Napoleone, acting area director for the U.S. Labor Department's Occupational Safety and Health Administration, said 13 employers were fined for infractions, including 10 violations that could lead to death or physical harm.

Fined the most was Martin and Nettrour Contractors of Columbus, the general trades contractor for the entire project, $5,450 for five serious and one minor violation.

Meanwhile, red-faced Ohio Building Authority officials had an aircraft warning light installed on the top of the 560-foot building Wednesday.

They acted after learning the structure hadn't met Federal Aviation Administration regulations since three large construction cranes were taken down from the top of the building and replaced by one large lifting crane.

The construction cranes had red warning lights, but the lifting crane has had only a white light. The FAA requires a red warning light on any structure more than 200 feet above the ground.

Building Unions Reach Accord

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Officials from the bulk of the nation's $100-billion-a-year construction industry and 16 AFLCIO unions have reached an agreement designed to eliminate costly, sometimes bloody jurisdictional brawls, sources here report.

The pact sets up a joint union-industry board to hear disputes over which union members get which types of work, forbids strikes over the issue, provides fines for unions and penalties for contractors who violate it.

If there are no last-minute hitches in the delicate negotiations that led to the pact, it is expected that union leaders will sign it later today.

permanent injunction against enforcement of the law.

The suit asked the temporary restraining order to permit a 23-year-old divorced mother of two to have an abortion. It also was on behalf of a Columbus gynecologist, Dr. Harley M. Blank, and all other physicians in Ohio.

Roman Catholics Given Warning About Abortions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roman Catholics have been warned by church leaders that they face excommunication if they undergo or perform an abortion.

"Those who obtain an abortion, those who persuade others to have an abortion, and those who perform the abortion procedure are guilty of breaking God's law," a pastoral message of the National Council of Catholic Bishops said Tuesday.

Excommunication means that the subject cannot receive the sacraments.

A recent decision of the U.S. Supreme Court had the effect of legalizing abortion.

The permanent injunction was asked to wipe the Ohio law from the books. Judge Kinneary said no injunctions were necessary since the law has been declared unconstitutional.

The ACLU suit was filed several weeks ago, soon after the U.S. Supreme Court had declared unconstitutional a Texas abortion statute was similar to Ohio's.

The Supreme Court declared that during the first six months of pregnancy, the decision regarding an abortion is between a woman and her physician. The court said a state could make abortions illegal during the final three months. The exception would be if a woman's life were endangered by the pregnancy.

The Ohio law had stated a legal abortion could be performed only if two physicians certified that a woman's life was endangered by her pregnancy.

Plan Searches For Americans Missing In Action

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The assistant U.S. Secretary of Defense in charge of war prisoners' affairs says the United States will conduct a search for the 1,328 American servicemen listed as missing in Indochina.

Maj. Gen. Daniel James said Tuesday the effort will be conducted through the Joint Casualty Resolution Center based in Thailand.

James said searchers will check aircraft crashes and grave sites throughout Indochina "until we have resolved as many of these cases as we can."

Such searches are provided for in the cease-fire agreement.

Confiscated Drugs

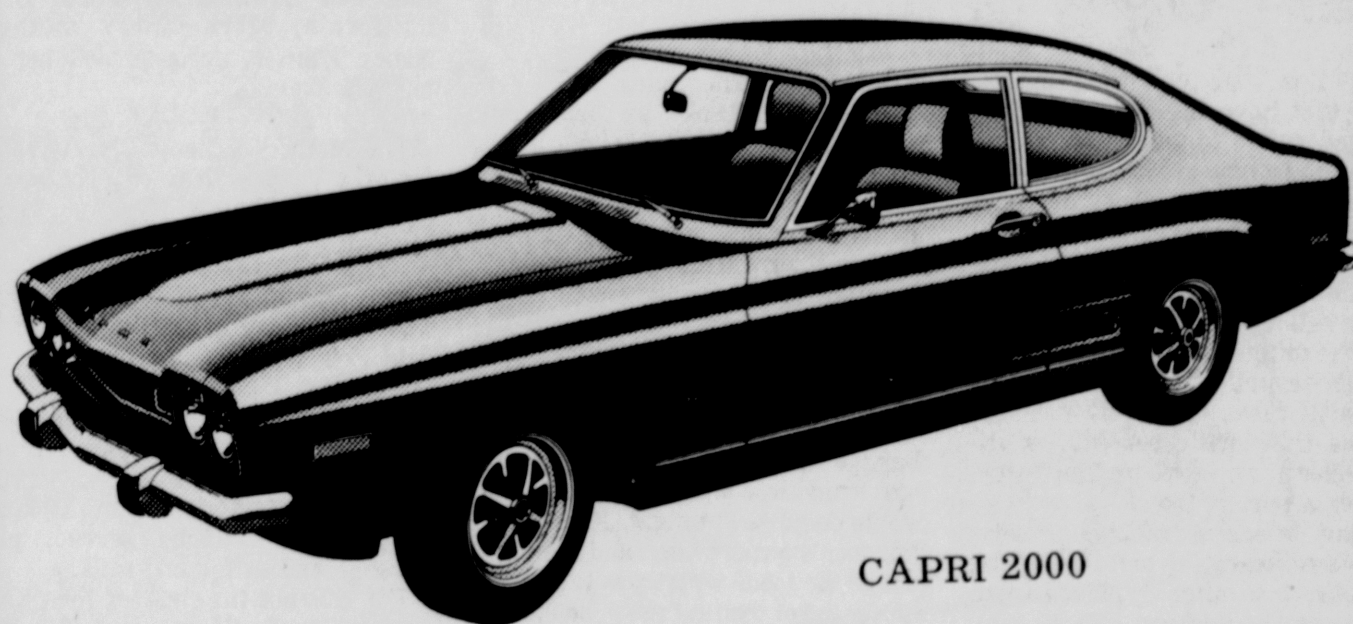

Go Up In Flames

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Approximately $100,000 in confiscated drugs went up in smoke Wednesday at the city's Red Bank incinerator.

Police burned the drugs, which included cocaine and heroin, sized in a number of drug abuse arrests.

The items had a street sale value of $100,000, police said.

Sneek-A-Peek

AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

Folk Tales — stories of the people — stories that have been handed down from generation to generation within families and ethnic groups, are seldom out into written form. They are kept alive as they are told again and again on summer porches, or beside winter fires. Often they embody a moral or a theory about something that is otherwise difficult to explain. They are not necessarily true, and not necessarily false. In fact, their details grow as they are repeated, for the story-teller's own imagination often becomes a part of the story.

In this modern, mobile society, where families divide and live apart, folk tales are often replaced with simple gossip. Perhaps this is why writers are doing research to learn old folk tales and put them down in story form. Modern versions of folk stories are featured in several of the new books that we have in the Sneek-a-Peek Room.

"The Knee-High Man and Other Tales," written by Julius Lester, and illustrated by Ralph Pinto, is a beautiful collection of short, Negro folk tales, each of which illustrates a moral about life. Julius Lester's father was a minister with a gift for telling stories, and many of these stories are ones that Julius remembers from his childhood. This is a humorous group of stories, some of which may remind the reader of the Uncle Remus tales.

"A Penny A Look" by Harve and Margot Zemach, is an old folk story, retold in a new form and cleverly illustrated. It tells about two brothers; one hard working, one lazy; who are foiled in their attempt to become rich by capturing a one-eyed man.

"How The Moon Began" is a folk tale from Grimm adapted by James Reeves and illustrated by Edward Ardizzone. This ancient tale tells us that the moon was originally a giant light which was hung in a tree so that people could see at night. Eventually, the moon's owners died, and managed to take the moon with them to heaven. This is one of the first moon books I've read in a long time which makes no mention of astronauts and space ships.

"One Sad Day" by Bernice Kohn is a modern fable whose message is very pertinent to today's world. It tells about the stripes and the spots, two groups of people who lived very peaceful lives — each in their own way. One day, the stripes decided that the spots would be happier following their way of life, so they declared war on the spots. This is a familiar story. You may have read it many times in the news.

"The Four Donkeys" by Lloyd Alexander is a tale about the tailor, the baker, and the shoemaker; all of whom set out to go to the fair. This is written in the style of a classic fable, and the drawings by Lester Abrams are in the manner of nineteenth-century illustrations.

Folk stories are a rich part of our heritage which should not be overlooked. Perhaps it is time for us all to become more involved with the history and teachings of our ancestors, and less involved with the business of our neighbors.

'Golden-Age' Prisoners Given Parole

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two of Ohio's more famous prison Golden Agers have been released from confinement after more than 38 years behind bars.

John Rai, 68, and Serafino Sinatra, alias John "Wop" Endlish, 72, will be working in the Buffalo, N.Y. area under a lifetime parole, the Ohio Adult Parole Authority said. They were paroled Feb. 8.

The two had been convicted with Ralph Carsello, Thomas "Yonnie" Licavoli and Jacob Sulkin of the first-degree murders of three gangland figures and a girlfriend in the 1930's. Licavoli was a Prohibition Era gang leader in the Detroit-Toledo area.

About a month ago Gov. John Gilligan commuted the sentences for Rai and Sinatra.

They were put under lifetime parole so "the public can be assured they will be closely supervised for the rest of their lives," the parole board said.

Rai said he will work either as a clerk for Barberton Homes, Inc. in Williamsville, N.Y. or at St. Columba's Church in Buffalo.

Sinatra is expected to live with a cousin in Tonawanda, N.Y.

Both will be reporting once a week to the New York Parole Board in Buffalo.

Carsello, a barber by trade, was paroled from the Ohio Penitentiary Jan. 11. He will live with his brother in Cleveland.

Licavoli lives in a suburb of Columbus, where his wife operates an antique shop. He was paroled Jan. 6.

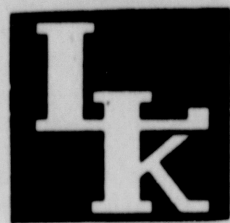

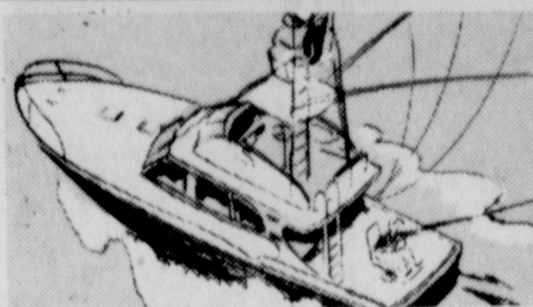

Sulkin, whose sentence was commuted in 1966, returned to Toledo where he died in July.

John Evans Is "Number One," But So Are Six Other Men

By MICHELE MORRISON
Herald Staff Writer

John Evans, when admitted to the first penitentiary, accepted the number "1" as his own, just as six other men were to take it in the future.

Prison officials in the old institution were economical in their use of numbers. Once a man had been pardoned or fulfilled his sentence, his number was re-issued to an incoming prisoner.

Other names connected to the No. 1 were John Parsel, Will Figgins, Edward Pierce, S. S. Monroe, George Spangle and Reuben Seeley.

Four other men shared David Evans' number of 2.

However thrifty the prison keepers were, they were never so cruel as to inflict the No. 13 on anyone entering the penitentiary. Those were times of superstition, and even the cruelist of wardens would not give a prisoner the number which was an open invitation to the devil.

Numbers gained popularity as "lucky" numbers, such as No. 4, No. 11, and No. 44. Seven men and one woman wore No. 4 before the state facility adopted a policy of not reissuing a number after it was given to one person. Nine men wore "lucky 11" and six shared No. 44.

John and David were but 20 and 19 when they were entered in the prison. But youngest of those sent to the penitentiary in the early years was a 12-year-old boy from Hamilton. Richard Liverpoll was sent to the institution March 23, 1833 to serve a three year term for arson and issued a "used" No. 16. After a year and a half, Richard was pardoned by the governor.

In the first 19 years of the penitentiary, the oldest person to be confined was 76 years of age. James Kincaid, a Washington County farmer, was sent up in 1831 on a morals charge. He served two years as No. 38, also a used number.

From the arrival of John Evans until the new prison was built in 1834, two-thirds of the 1,231 persons received there were pardoned by governors.

The 1815 penitentiary which fronted on Scioto St. in Columbus, on the city's southwest corner, was abandoned when the new penal institution was built. It was used as a state arsenal afterwards, and once again became a place of tremendous activity during the Civil and Spanish-American Wars.

During its first few years, the number of prisoners was low, so Keeper Hooker and just two or three guards were required to handle prison business.

On Aug. 19, 1818, just three years after the first convict was received, the prison population had risen to 137. One hundred years later, in 1918 there was a 2,800 per cent increase in population, to 1,944.

The state's population during that same period rose from 581,434 to 5,759,368, only an increase of 1,000 per cent. Criminal growth at that period was nearly three times as fast as the population, even before the dry laws went into effect.

Pickaway County, after initiating the flow of prisoners to the state penal institution, tapered off to a quiet share of that first prison's history and left the excitement and stories to those countries in which the larger cities were contained.

1st Crofters Judgement Rendered

ROCK HILL, S. C. (AP) — "I never saw an more willful, fraudulent act since I've been on the bench," U.S. District Court Judge Robert W. Hemphill Jr. said.

He referred to a damage suit in which Carl I. Latham Jr. of Rock Hill was awarded $223,845 from two Columbus, Ohio, firms and the partners of the companies.

A federal court jury found that Crofters, Inc., and the Deegee Co., and Gerald A. Donahue, Sidney D. Griffith and Harry A. Groban had committed fraudulent acts in promising loans.

The judgment was the first secured by a former client of the money-finding firms, which tapped the Ohio treasury and the School Employees Retirement System of Ohio (SERS) for $50 million in questionable loans.

Testimony in this case was that loans for housing projects at Rock Hill and at Statesville, N.C., were to come from SERS.

Latham said such loans were ruled illegal under Ohio law early in 1970 when he was about half finished with the Rock Hill job.

He said it cost his real estate business $180,000 and left him near bankruptcy. He said he and others who had obtained such loans had to refund the money, although he had paid the defendants $57,000 in finders' fees.

Indonesian Adventure Ends For American Tribal 'Wife'

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The adventure of Wyn Sargent, an American writer-photographer who married a tribal chief in the jungles of West Irian, ended today. The Indonesian government ordered her to leave Indonesia by Saturday.

Miss Sargent, a tall, slim woman in her 40s, said in a telephone interview she had exciting moments during her 4½ month experience among one of the most primitive and savage tribes in the world, "where cannibalism is still practiced."

She said her Jan. 8 marriage to Obaharok, a tribal chief from the territory of Siapkosi Mulame near the muddy frontier town of Wamena in the central highlands of the Baliem Valley, was not legal "for both of us agreed not to legalize the marriage."

"When I first tried to see Obaharok, he had 30 warriors around the village to keep foreigners out. But I brought three gifts — an axe, a long knife and a spade — for the chief," she said, "and he was overwhelmed."

"I married Obaharok to bring the three savage warring tribes to live together in peace and harmony. And it was only a traditional wedding."

Miss Sargent said she spent some exciting time trying to bring the hostile tribes together in friendship in the jungle region by becoming a blood sister to two tribal chiefs and by going through a traditional wedding with Obaharok.

"They cut my wrist and the wrists of the other two chiefs, bled them together with my hands and thus made us blood brothers and sister," Miss Sargent related.

She was expelled from the jungle area because the military command felt her activities were "detrimental to the development of the region."

Miss Sargent claimed the warring savage tribes of Analoga, Wiyagoba and Siapkosi, Multama terrorists, are now living in peace and harmony.

Miss Sargent, a widow from Huntington Beach, Calif., said she first came to West Irian to take pictures and study the life of the West Irian tribes and "certainly not to study the sex life of the tribes."

"I only need 50 days more to complete my work so that I can say with satisfaction that my work has brought peace and harmony among the hostile tribes," she added.

Senate Nixes Team Plan For Elections

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A proposed constitutional amendment to require the governor and lieutenant governor to run together in general elections will not be on the May primary ballot, Sen. Paul E. Gillmor, R-2 Port Clinton, said today.

Gillmor, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said he had given up plans to get the House-approved proposal out of committee by next Thursday, deadline for getting proposals on the ballot.

Gillmor said he didn't like the idea of putting into the constitution a provision that calls for separate nominations of governor and lieutenant governor.

"I think how they are selected should be left up to the legislature," he said. "That is what the Constitutional Revision Commission proposed."

In other Senate action, a subcommittee of the Ways and Means Committee, agreed to reject a House-approved proposal that the $300 million Vietnam War veterans bonus be financed by a property tax increase.

Republicans said they would rather tap other state taxes to finance the retirement of bonds that will be issued if voters approve the bonus.

The GOP has contended that financing the Democratic-sponsored proposal by property tax increases would be going against Gov. John J. Gilligan's pledge of no new taxes in the next two years.

Greenwich To Get 'Son Et Lumiere'

LONDON (AP) — Greenwich Observatory, dating from 1675, will be the backcloth for a presentation of Son et Lumiere (sound and light) from July 14 through Sept. 22 next year.

The entertainment will cover events in Greenwich's long history. The observatory is six miles down the River Thames from central London. The zero meridian of longitude is marked on the path in front of the building.

Skyjack Accord With Cuba Set Before Weekend

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Cuba are expected to sign an antihijacking agreement by the end of this week, it has been learned.

The official time frame was put at a "few days" by Secretary of State William P. Rogers in Miami Beach, Fla., Tuesday night. But it is understood this means by Saturday at the latest.

Only minor details remain to be worked out. They concern such matters as arranging for the signing and exchanging of texts, and officials say there is no chance of a breakdown over these procedural matters.

Even though high administration officials from President Nixon on down through Rogers have acknowledged an agreement has been reached, no one would discuss the substance of the accord.

Nixon said Tuesday that Rogers would disclose the contents at an appropriate time, but sources said the silence resulted from an agreement with Havana not to disclose details until all procedural matters were concluded.

While no official would talk even privately about the agreement, under negotiation since late November, it was learned the last major problem was cleared away when a Cuban note was received Saturday.

This dealt with the classification and definition of hijackers and hijacking.

Toledo Youth Slain In Duel With Police

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Toledo police Tuesday evening shot and killed an 18-year-old Toledo man they said pulled a gun and started firing at them as they approached him.

Police said the youth, Raymond Vasquez, had been involved in a hit-and-run accident earlier.

Use The Classifieds

There had been a problem earlier over whether the agreement should be retroactive, which would mean some Cuban refugees now in the United States could be sent back.

Washington insisted the agreement should deal primarily with the future and not with past incidents, and all indications point to Cuba yielding on this point for the most part.

And while there was no firm sign about which way the classification dispute was settled there were indications of a compromise under which the degree of force used would be the main factor in determining whether a hijacking had been committed.

How to get around your long distance operator.

It's a breeze, now that Direct Distance Dialing is here in Circleville.

Direct Distance Dialing is a new way of placing station-to-station long distance calls—without having to go through your long distance operator.

It lets you place a call anywhere in the United States in about ten seconds.

Here's how you do it:

First, dial 1. That will connect you to a long distance line.

Next, dial the area code (if it is different from your own) which will connect you with the city you're calling. (You'll find that number on the Area Code map in your telephone directory.)

Then, to complete your call, simply dial the number of the party you want to reach.

If you happen to make a mistake in dialing, don't worry. Just hang up, call the operator, and explain what happened.

She'll be glad to make sure you're not charged for the misplaced call. Even though you did try to get around her.

Five Points News

By MRS. FRANCIS FURNISS

There were 32 present at the Five Points United Methodist Sunday School Sunday morning. Worship services followed with 85 present. The Boy Scouts were present and had a part in the worship service. The Men's Fellowship met at the church Sunday evening.

The Five Points United Methodist Women's Society met at the church Wednesday evening for its February meeting. The president, Mrs. William Davis, opened the meeting with a reading "If Every Home were an Altar." Roll call was answered by seven members and each member present paid their dues for the coming year.

Cards of appreciation were read from the Harvey Brigner family and the Raymond Hanawalt family. Mrs. Francis Furniss, treasurer, gave the financial report and also gave the yearly report.

Cards of cheer were sent to four friends of the community who are ill or shut-in. The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. E. L. Sheets.

The third annual Gospel Sing will be held March 3rd at 7:30 p.m. at the Westfall School, sponsored by the Men's Community Club. Tickets may be had from any of the Men's Club members, Little League members or at Winfough's Grocery. They will also be available at the door. The public is invited to attend.

Grant Extension On Terminal Razing

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The Southern Railway Co. has given Save The Terminal Committee a week to decide whether it wants to put up $650,000 to save most of the concourse of the Cincinnati Union Terminal.

Mayor Theodore Berry said that while the present emphasis is on saving the concourse and its 14 mosaic murals depicting the beginnings of the city, there is other activity underway to raise funds to buy the terminal's rotunda.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Nominations for the 45th annual Oscar race demonstrate emergence of the black-oriented film market despite dominance of "The Godfather," the Mafia picture up for 11 awards—the most for any film.

"Lady Sings the Blues," the story of black jazz singer Billie Holiday, won five nominations Monday; and "Sounder," the story of a black family in the South, won three.

COMMON PLEAS COURT, PROBATE DIVISION

All interested parties are hereby Notified that the following Executors have filed their Accounts in the Common Pleas Court, Probate Division, Pickaway County, Ohio: No. 24842 Harold F. Neff, Executor of the estate of Elizabeth M. Neff, deceased, First and Final Account. No. 24143 Burdell Coon and Ralph Stir, Jr., Co-Executors of the estate of Ralph Stir Sr. Second and Final Account. No. 24678 Luther A. Ruff Jr., Executor of the estate of Luther A. Ruff, deceased, First, Final and Distributive Account. And that said Accounts will be for hearing and settlement before the Court on Monday, March 12th, 1973 at 9 o'clock A.M. Exceptions to said accounts, if any, must be filed here in on or before March 6, 1973. Witness my hand and the seal of said Common Pleas Court, Probate Division, Pickaway County, Ohio on February 6, 1973. Guy G. Cline, Judge Common Pleas Court Probate Division Feb. 8, 15, 22; March 1

Nominations for "Lady Sings the Blues" include Diana Ross, best actress; Terence McCloy, Chris Clark and Suzanne dePasse, best screenplay original; Carl Anderson, art direction; Bob Mackie, Ray Aghayan and Norma Kech, best costume design; and Gil Askey, best musical score adaptation.

Cicely Tyson is in the running for best actress, and Paul Winfield is up for best actor. Both starred in "Sounder," which also was nominated for best picture.

"The Godfather" scored for its director, writers, three supporting actors and its star, Marlon Brando.

The nominations offered little surprise, but some observers questioned whether Al Pacino should have been nominated as a supporting actor, since his "Godfather" role was larger than Brando's.

For Brando, it was his sixth Motion Picture Academy nomination and the first after a long wait. He won an Oscar for best actor in "On the Waterfront" in 1954.

Competing with Brando and Winfield for best actor this year are: Michael Caine and Laurence Olivier of "Sleuth" and Peter O'Toole of "The Ruling Class."

"Cabaret" took 10 nominations—the second highest total. "The Poseidon Adventure" had seven.

Liza Minelli, the daughter of the late Judy Garland, was nominated for best actress for her role in "Cabaret." Others competing for the award are Maggie Smith, "Travels With My Aunt"; and Liv Ullmann, "The Emigrants."

"Deliverance," "The Emigrants," "Cabaret" and "Sounder" joined "The Godfather" to make up the best-picture field.

Charlie Chaplin was nominated for his scoring of "Limelight," which he did in the 1950s. The film became eligible for Academy consideration because it was not released in Los Angeles until 1972.

The Oscar presentations will be made March 27.

Other nominations were: Supporting actor: Eddie Albert for "The Heartbreak Kid"; James Caan, Robert Duvall and Pacino for "The Godfather"; and Joel Grey for "Cabaret."

Supporting actress: Jeannie Berlin, "The Heartbreak Kid"; Eileen Heckart, "Butterflies Are Free"; Geraldine Page, "Pete 'n' Tillie"; Susan Tyrrell, "Fat City"; and Shelly Winters, "The Poseidon Adventure."

Rigglesman Gets Third Bolt For Catching Thief

Car thieves will learn to avoid Pickaway and Franklin Counties in their escapes across the state or country.

Highway Patrolman Jim Rigglesman scored this third "hit" of the year yesterday, apprehending a stolen Maryland car and its driver.

The officer was patrolling I-71 shortly before 2 p.m. yesterday when he noted a car with Maryland registration. Rigglesman noticed that the youthful driver seemed to be trying to avoid the Patrol car.

The teenager pulled off at a service station, then tried to escape along Route 62. By that time Ptl. Rigglesman had made a check on the vehicle's registration, found that it had been stolen, and turned to pursue the youth.

He apprehended the young man, 17-year-old Daniel L. Crouse of Bel Air, Md., on Highway 62. Crouse had taken the auto which belonged to his father on Tuesday. His parents filed the stolen car complaint, knowing their son was the thief.

Ptl. Rigglesman turned the 17-year-old over to authorities in Columbus to be held at the Juvenile Detention Center until transportation back to Maryland could be arranged for him and the vehicle.

The patrolman apprehended a stolen car and thief Tuesday and also picked one up in January. For each stolen car recovered and the thief apprehended, a Highway Patrol officer receives a bright red lightning bolt to place on his cruiser door.

Rigglesman is working toward a goal of five, which earns the officer the title of "Ace" in fighting auto theft. Top award in the Patrol contest is the Blue Max, a medal and ribbon to be worn on the uniform. The officer scoring the greatest number of apprehensions throughout 1973 is awarded this honor.

The 1972 Blue Max award was won by an officer who collected seven lightning bolts for successful apprehensions.

Social Action Groups Hit At Ohio Bankers Meeting

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "We bankers are having the hell beaten out of us, and it's high time we identified our adversaries," said James H. Herbert, president of the Ohio Bankers Association.

Herbert, president of the Lorain National Bank, said the adversaries are social action groups, which seek to "affect the internal operations of banks."

"This includes minority hirings and the implementation of uplift programs to permit the hiring of the undereducated. Most bankers feel legislation in these areas has been far too sweeping."

Herbert made the remarks at the one-day, mid-winter meeting of the association, attended by more than 1,000 persons. Stephen Kohn, superintendent of state banks; Eugene Adams, president of the American Bankers Association, and Gov. John Gilligan also addressed the conference.

Herbert said, "Attempts to interject social policy into lending criteria are totally wrong and should be resisted by every practical-minded banker."

"If a banker wishes to make a marginal loan because he feels some persons should be given a chance, he may be acting commendably, but this action must remain his prerogative. He must never be compelled to make such loans."

Bankers should have a social conscience, he said, but should never feel social guilt. "We did not invent poverty and injustice and should not be expected to finance the correction of the nation's ills..." he added.

Kohn reviewed Gilligan administration proposals for updating and changing Ohio bank and loan laws and got a boost from the governor.

Prior to Kohn's remarks, Gilligan said he has asked the 110th General Assembly to abolish statutes involving cognovit notes and the holder in due course doctrine.

Blazing Crash Closes Highway

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—A four-mile stretch of the southbound lane of Interstate 75 was shut down for nearly three hours Wednesday night and early Thursday following a spectacular crash near the Mitchell Avenue interchange.

Police said a tractor-trailer jackknifed on the rain-slick highway, hit three other cars and burst into flames. There were three injuries, but no fatalities.

Traffic problems were compounded when some 2,000 young people left the nearby Cincinnati Gardens after a rock concert.

The section of highway was closed down from 9:20 p.m. to 12:15 a.m.

Man Admits Murder Of His Son

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A seriously ill Hamilton man, who blamed the beating death of his four-year-old son on a retarded daughter 15 years ago, has been charged with the death.

A police guard was placed on Edward Verdin, 47, at Mercy Hospital Wednesday after he was charged with manslaughter in the death of Thomas R. Verdin on Nov. 5, 1957.

Police said Verdin's wife, Odra, the mother of seven, told them of the incident Tuesday. They said he had threatened her and the children with death if they ever told police.

Police confirmed that Verdin had been a one-time patient at Longview state mental hospital in Cincinnati.

Police said Verdin told them he did strike the child five or six times with his hands. The mother said a pipe was used.

Police said Verdin originally told them the beating was inflicted by another child, Rachel, six, who was retarded. She was committed to the Columbus State Institute. Police said he girl had beaten several of the other children.

Detectives, who questioned Verdin at the hospital, reported that Verdin told them he was recovering from another operation and was on heavy medication at the time of his son's death.

White House Sounds Out Solons On North Viet Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House reportedly is consulting leaders of Congress to determine how strongly postwar financial aid for North Vietnam is opposed on Capitol Hill.

A Republican leadership source disclosed the consultations Wednesday as the White House and Hanoi announced a joint economic commission to consider U.S. reconstruction aid for the North.

Congress has made clear it is in no mood to consider aid for Hanoi now. But the source indicated the White House is trying to find out what congressmen would consider approving after peace is established and all American POWs are returned, and the missing are accounted for.

Rep. H.R. Gross, R-Iowa, said the commission is "the conduit for the handout" and added, "I'm opposed to paying them anything." Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., of the House Appropriations Committee, which would have to approve assistance money, says Congress would not approve it now but he would not speculate on what might happen later.

"This is a very bitter and disturbing thing for the American people," Mahon said. "I think everyone will want to tread very cautiously in this area and I certainly will."

Sen. Charles E. Percy, R-Ill., has said also he does not believe Congress would approve aid for Hanoi unless it is contributed jointly by U.S. allies.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers told the House Foreign Affairs Committee last week that is what the Nixon administration is trying to work out.

The U.S.-Hanoi commission was announced by the two countries in a joint communique reporting on presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger's weekend meetings with North Vietnamese officials.

The communique said they exchanged views "on the manner in which the United States will contribute to healing the wounds of war and to postwar economic reconstruction in North Vietnam."

Return Of POW Husband Brings End Of Schooling

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Linda Dunn says she has quit school while awaiting a reunion with her POW husband, Army Capt. John G. Dunn. Mrs. Dunn, 25, said "I dropped out immediately when I found out his name was on the list."

She had been attending the Hamilton, Ohio branch campus of Miami University. She had not settled on a career.

She said she was still awaiting a telephone call for the date of their reunion at Fort Knox, Ky.

It had been confirmed that her husband would be flown from Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines.

Dunn, 30, was released by the Viet Cong last week in South Vietnam. He was captured in Lam Dong Province on March 18, 1968 while serving as an adviser to the South Vietnam army.

"I haven't heard anything official, except that he will be coming to Fort Knox," she said.

Great Lakes Flood Threat Continues

ROCKVILLE, Md. (AP) — An almost unprecedented flood threat continues unabated for some Great Lakes shores areas and connecting waterways, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration said Wednesday.

The areas most critically threatened include shores bordering Lake Erie, the Detroit River, Lake St. Clair, Saginaw Bay on Lake Huron and Lake Ontario.

In serious but less danger are the shores of the rest of Lake Huron and Lake Michigan, the administration said. Least threatened are the shores of Lake Superior, largest and deepest of the Great Lakes.

Lake Erie and Lake St. Clair remain at the highest levels on record for midwinter, according to a NOAA Lake Survey Center bulletin for January, the latest available. Their levels are expected to remain at record highs through July of this year.

The federal agency blamed the high water levels on precipitation ranging from 4 to 9 per cent above the average of the past eight years.

Strong winds caused an estimated $22 million damage to property at the western end of Lake Erie Nov. 14, but meteorologists said a stronger wind could produce a storm surge several feet higher. The water pileup could occur on any shore, depending on wind direction.

Brown Enters Fee Payment Suit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio attorney general's office is taking over the legal challenge of a federal judge's order that the state pay the fees of two lawyers involved in a legislative redistricting suit.

With the attorney general stepping in, state Sen. Frederick N. Young, R-38 Dayton, decided Wednesday to step out. He agreed to drop his common pleas court suit seeking to enjoin the state from paying the fees.

The state Controlling Board Monday approved payments of $27,372 to the lawyers as fees for representing Samuel Jordan, a Youngstown bar owner.

Eastern Timber

Wolf Endangered

WASHINGTON (AP) — If a wolf is at your door, be kind to it.

Nathaniel Reed, assistant secretary of the Interior, has called for a moratorium on the killing of wolves until a nationwide recovery campaign is completed by the Fish and Wildlife Service's Office of Endangered Species.

"There are only 500 to 1,000 eastern timber wolves left in the United States," said Reed.

Mostly they are in Minnesota, with a scattered few in Michigan and Wisconsin. Deer hunters sometimes assert they decimate game populations; scientists are sure they upgrade deer and most herds by weeding out old and sickly individuals.

Prepaid Legal Service Popularity Grows

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Prepaid legal service plans are bringing moderate income earners their first access to a lawyer, while opening a potentially vast new market for the legal profession.

The new but burgeoning plans operate in much the same way as medical insurance. For so much a month, the participant has a lawyer when he needs one—up to the limits provided by the particular plan.

"The momentum is sufficiently great to say that prepaid legal service is here and it's not as big as it will be," said F. William McCaltin, the St. Louis, Mo., lawyer who heads a special committee of the American Bar Association set up to follow the issue.

Prepaid legal service will come into its own, says McCaltin, when it achieves the same fringe-benefit status as health insurance and pension plans.

For the profession, "there has been a growing awareness that legal services have not, on a practical basis, been available to large segments of our population," said Philadelphia lawyer Harold Cramer.

"If we define people of moderate income as earning between $5,000 to $15,000 per year, these family groups comprise 60 per cent of the American population," Cramer told lawyers at a meeting of American Bar Association which ended here Tuesday.

"Most will agree that these persons are, in today's society, effectively deprived out of receiving legal services," he said.

In Philadelphia, the local bar association has joined with a national insurance company to provide a program aimed at unions, employee groups, association members and similar categories.

According to the ABA, bar associations in California, Washington, Colorado, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, New Jersey, Wisconsin and Utah are in some state of development of a prepaid program.

Additionally, the ABA says, two major insurance companies have announced they will initiate experimental programs this year. The bar efforts are directed at so-called "open plans" in which the client selects his own lawyer.

Far more vigorous at the moment are "closed plans" in which specific lawyers are used, says McCaltin. Conservative estimates place the number of closed plans at about 2,000 nationwide, servicing perhaps as much as 5 million people.

Organized consumer interest in legal services is growing, says McCaltin, with closed plans being favored because they lend themselves to quality-and-cost-control.

For their part, lawyers generally favor open plans. McCaltin finds "some tensions" within the profession about where business will go with the growth of prepaid plans. He also finds some "conservatism and an elitist attitude."

The first prepaid plan was a pilot project in Shreveport, La., including some 550 families who comprised Local 229 of the International Laborers and Construction Workers Union. After two years of operation, Shreveport lawyer Henry A. Politz finds it "an idea whose time has come."

The program, with grants to cover administration costs, computed the charge to participants the way fringe benefits would be worked out in a collective bargaining agreement. The charge arrived at was two cents for each hour the worker spent on the job. It averaged about $32 per year per family, Politz said.

For this, the participants received a fixed amount of legal help which Politz says covered better than 90 per cent of the group's needs.

The plan provided $100 per year per family in consultation services, $250 per year for office work such as preparing papers, $325 for attorneys' fees, and $180 for court costs.

The final benefit, "major legal," provided 80 per cent of the first $1,000 spent in excess of other benefits. This category, Politz feels, will have to be made more generous.

The Shreveport lawyer said a five to six cents per hour cost to the participant would make the program self-sustaining.

A growing demand for legal services, plus a system for delivering them have arisen almost simultaneously with the increase in the number of lawyers, says McCaltin.

The law business runs about $5 billion through the till a year, he says. The growth rate is about $100 million a year.

"My judgment is that the introduction of prepaid legal services will accelerate that growth." He won't estimate the rate of growth but points out that the "fringe-benefit industry" is eyeing proposals for national health insurance. Such a program could free as much as $2 billion to be used elsewhere, the lawyer says.

U.S. Protests Viet Cong Delays

SAIGON (AP) — The United States told the Viet Cong in an official protest letter today that it will not tolerate a delay in the release of American prisoners held in South Vietnam in the future.

In strong language, Maj. Gen. Gilbert H. Woodward, the chief U.S. delegate to the fourparty Joint Military Commission, said the Viet Cong violated the Vietnam peace agreement signed in Paris Jan. 27 by delaying the release of 27 American prisoners of war at Loc Ninh, 75 miles north of Saigon, on Monday.

Insurance Company For Workers Dropped

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio AFL-CIO today announced it had given up its plan to form an auto insurance company aimed at reducing rates for the working man.

The labor organization, in its monthly publication, "Focus," cited lack of support from local unions and individual members as the cause of the downfall of the proposed "Unity of Ohio Inc."

Sealed bids shall be clearly marked with job name, identifying the portion of the contract that is being bid. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check or a bid bond in an amount equal to five per cent (5 per cent) of the bid, and made payable to the Clerk-Treasurer of Pickaway-Ross County Joint Vocational School District as a guarantee that, if the proposal is accepted, a contract will be entered into in accordance therewith and the performance of it properly secured. Should a bid be accepted and a successful bidder will be returned upon proper execution and securing of the contract. Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned after a bid has been made payable upon the rejection of all bids. The successful bidder will be required to furnish a satisfactory Performance and Completion Bond and Material Bond each shall be equal to one Hundred percent (100 percent) of the amount of the award.
No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the opening of the bids.
Board of Education, Pickaway-Ross County Joint Vocational School District reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Janelle Thompson, Georgeann Puffinbarger, Feb. 21; John Dearth, Linda Fausnaugh Blue, Matt Gibson, Donna Sue Dyer, Sylvia Johnson, Feb. 22; Elaine Steinhauer, Winfred Bidwell, Ralph Coleman, Tony Perry, Feb. 23; Walter Maugher, Larry Neff, Doreen Downs, Feb. 24; Steve Cochran, Barbara Adams, Ralph Piper (Sue Graffis' daddy), Karen Horn, Mary Curry, Feb. 25.

It was a right happy birthday present Brian Wisecup received. One of his "goodest" buddies, young Philip Linville came down from his Columbus home to spend the weekend. Philip's papa and mama, Rev. Ed and Glyn Linville and the other two images, Stephen and Eddie, came to our town on Sunday afternoon to transport their son back home. The Linvilles had the Williamsport Methodist Charge several years before being transferred to the big city.

Seventy-year-old Elbert Picklesimer was honored guest at Sunday family dinner at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Charley and Esther Picklesimer and Faith Ann. Helping dad celebrate were Jim Picklesimer and his Mindy, Kelly and J. F., Bob Picklesimer, his Mrs. and their children of Laurelville and friends Floyd and Betty Cox and his devoted wife Vi.

Sunday dinner guests (a week ago) of Bill and Pollie Buskirk and their trio, Gina, Vicki and Billy were Mrs. Mary Buskirk, Ida Buskirk and Mrs. Nelda Osborne of Circleville; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Boyssel and three, Tabitha, Melinda and Jackie of Columbus.

Vicki Buskirk and Sheryl Horch (comely daughter of Bill and Marcia) attended the Z.T.-Westfall game with Amy Easterday and then overnights with her Friday night.

Science Fair

The Westfall Science Dept. will have their annual Science Fair this Saturday. Projects will be in place and ready for judging by 9:30 a.m. From noon until 2:30 p.m., the area will be open to the general public to view the efforts of the entrants. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

At 1:30 p.m. the awards assembly will be held in the auditorium. Do keep in mind that the projects will be dismantled at the 2:30 hour.

Bessie (Mrs. Darl) Miller jetted out from Port Columbus Tuesday a.m. bound for Miami, Fla. to be with her sister, Mrs. Della Raub who underwent recent surgery.

Pearl Cochenour entertained her canasta club Tuesday evening and taking home the prizes were Sue Graffis, high; Margene (intellectual literary interests) Looney, traveling; Patti Brayshaw (subbing for Jackie Hopper) low; and Mae Litter, door. Trying hard to get a prize were Colleen Justice, Esther Picklesimer and this card shark.

Ron Bush was scheduled to enter Chillicothe Hospital on Monday and undergo oral surgery on Tuesday.

Also a surgical patient at Chillicothe Hospital is Mrs. Marcus Ebenhack who has been quite ill for a lengthy time now. Her daughter, Mrs. Merton (Marlene) Garrison was also a recent patient at the same hospital.

Two real charmers, Angela Agans and Robin Michele Oesterle, were baptized during worship hour this past Sunday at the Methodist Church by Rev. Dick Crosby. Angela is the daughter of Bob and Naomi Gregory Agans and Robin is the wee one of Bill and Denise Rhinesmith Oesterle.

Scout Sunday was also recognized during worship services and since there were exactly four Cub Scouts present, usher Bill Horch guided the boys in "passing the plates." It was a delightful gesture on his part and a heartwarming moment for the congregation. Scouts were Tim and Mike Bush, Guy Bivens and Ken Horch.

Breakfast

Something new is being ventured at the Methodist Church beginning this Saturday at 8 a.m. All the men of the church are invited to breakfast in the annex with a time of Christian fellowship and a guest layman speaker. The breakfast will conclude at 9 a.m. Rev. Crosby is hoping for a good turnout.

Dinner

On Feb. 22 the WSCS will prepare a ham and fried chicken dinner with all the trimmings and start serving at 5 p.m. and continue until 7:30 p.m. Tickets are being sold in advance by WSCS members. Or they can be purchased at the door.

Sale

The next expected venture for the Methodists is to hold an auction at the Pavilion on March 3. Anyone wishing to contribute saleable items can get more information by calling 474-2917.

Hey, now, is there any living "thing" more full of life than a teen-ager? And when you are fortunate enough to have a whole houseful the world really swings and that's how it was at the household of H. H. and Mary Lee Stevens this past weekend when personable daughter Joyce, a frosh at Miami University, invited roommate Peggy Brown of Ashtabula, fellow residents of Oxford Hall Patty Harrington of Lakewood, Kathy Hartmark of Shaker Heights, Debi Howe and Patty Talley both of Dayton to savor the delights of rural living.

None of the girls had been on an honest to goodness farm before and they found it all a pleasing experience. They all visited with Joyce's grandmother, Mrs. J. R. Bright and it was a case of mutual affection and who charmed who? Mrs. J. R. has no peer in her cheery outlook on life and her captivating Southern lady accent is delectable.

The Stevens are hopeful Joyce will have them all back again especially during warmer weather when they can see our "country a-greening" and the farmers tilling their fields and the beauties of Deercreek Dam.

POW Bracelet

The Easterdays have a real interest in the POW releases. Daughter Birly has worn a bracelet for a long, long time and even distributed twenty-five to other interested persons. We have found the names of some of the twenty-five and we are hopeful that a Michael Brunhaver listed is the one and same Skip Brunhaver whose bracelet Birly is wearing. None of those released to U.S. soil has been one of "our" men but names have been in the newspaper as being on the Hanoi list.

Happiness is — home for them all!

Heart Fund

The Heart Fund drive is set for Feb. 25 but here in the village of Williamsport and Deercreek Twp. our boys and girls will be knocking on your doors on Feb. 24 so there will be no conflict with the Kingway Singers scheduled to appear at the Methodist Church under the auspices of the Jr. MYF on the 25th at 4 p.m.

The annual heart balloon sale in our town will be conducted the same day. Members of 4-H Clubs will be serving their community by canvassing for the Heart Fund. They always do a marvelous job!

You haven't forgotten to make plans for the fabulous gospel sing sponsored by the Monroe Men's Club, have you? The date — Saturday, March 3. The

Dental Plan Pushed For Workers

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Dental insurance, a subject which may go unmentioned during today's opening session of the United Auto Workers union Production Workers Conference, is on the delegates' minds.

At least two top union executives have told newsmen dental insurance is one thing they expect the UAW will gain during this year's contract negotiations with General Motors, Ford and Chrysler.

Some form of dental insurance is "virtually certain" to result from contract talks with the automakers, top union leader said Wednesday. Another official said the same thing last week. Both men asked not to be identified when their predictions were reported.

UAW President Leonard Woodcock opened today's session of the two-day Production Workers Conference with a speech. Then, the session was thrown open to comment from nearly 750 delegates representing the union's assembly line workers.

If dental insurance is indeed a key goal of the union in auto bargaining which begins in July, no one is specifying just what the UAW wants. In fact, the subject wasn't mentioned during a union meeting in New Orleans last week.

At least one UAW member said Wednesday he is so confident there will be some form of dental insurance that he is putting off oral surgery until he is insured.

Even where the UAW has some form of dental insurance in its contract, the terms vary widely. Thus far, the insurance is available only to some aerospace workers and those at International Harvester.

The International Harvester plan is probably the most comprehensive in any UAW contract. It cost 7½ to 8 cents an hour per employee when negotiated several years ago. UAW officials say a similar plan negotiated today would cost about 10 cents per hour.

At International Harvester the company provides coverage for all employees and their families. There is no deductible clause and the plan pays the full cost of routine examinations and cleaning every six months.

In addition, the insurance covers 75 per cent of the cost of X-rays, fillings, tooth pulling, gum disease treatment and repairing bridges or dentures.

Half the cost of new bridges or dentures is paid as is replacement of existing bridges and dentures.

OHIO WEATHER SUMMARY

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Following is the Ohio weather summary from the National Weather Service:

A low pressure area moved through Ohio overnight, and moderately cold, northerly winds were expected to invade the state today, bringing up to three inches of snow across the state and gale threats to the Lake Erie shore. Heavier snow is possible tonight in the northeastern snow belt.

Temperatures were forecast to dip to the 20s this afternoon after readings in the 30s at dawn. Lows should drop to the teens overnight and highs Friday are forecast to climb back only to the teens and low 20s.

Gale force winds were expected to pound the southern shores of Lake Erie this afternoon, causing some shore erosion.

Rain was general across the state overnight, but was beginning to change to snow from the northwest this morning. Dense fog was reported in the northeastern part of the state, forcing some airports to close for a short time.

Lukens Plans Court Test On Candidacy

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Although he is circulating candidacy petitions, State Sen. Donald E. "Buz" Lukens of Middletown said Wednesday he has not decided yet whether to seek the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Lukens said he won't make that decision until next summer. He is circulating the petitions, he explained, to force his five-year suspension from political campaigning into court.

The suspension resulted from a finding by the Butler County Board of Elections that Lukens failed to meet the legal deadline for submitting his campaign expense statements from the November election.

Lukens claimed his statements got lost in the mail.

He said he expects Secretary of State Ted Brown to reject the petitions. Then Lukens will take the matter to court, probably some time next week.

Brown already has rejected one set of gubernatorial petitions, submitted by former Gov. James A. Rhodes. That case involves a state constitutional question on Rhodes' eligibility to run.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Give Your Man His Walking Papers

DEAR ABBY: I have been dating a very wealthy married man for the last three years. I was married when we started seeing each other, but I got a divorce because he said if I were "free" he would divorce his wife and marry me.

He told me that he had not laid a hand on his wife for five years, now all of a sudden she's pregnant!

I am wondering now if I am foolish to wait for him? He has children, and so have I. I quit work to be available to see him during the day, but there are days I never see him, and I am getting bored. He takes good care of me financially, but I am a young woman yet and need to know the future is secure.

I have had offers of dates with other men, but have stayed true to him. Please tell me if you think I'm being played for a fool. Or should I wait out his wife?

TIRED AND IMPATIENT

DEAR T. AND I.: Why don't you give HIM his walking papers. If it's security you're after, you won't find it with him.

DEAR ABBY: When you go to a restaurant and order a sandwich, and it comes with a few slices of pickle on the edge of the plate, are you supposed to eat the pickle? Or is it just there for decoration?

We took a survey at our school. Out of 125 students, 75 rejected the pickle, and 50 ate it (mostly with their fingers.) Can you just imagine all the pickles that are wasted in the city of New York Alone? How would you vote, Abby?

IN A PICKLE

DEAR IN: With the pickle eaters. DEAR ABBY: You have absolutely made my year! I have had 21 years of moans and groans because of the name I gave my youngest daughter. And then you come along and print a letter from a girl who at age 18 actually CHOSE that very name out of all the names in the world!

My thanks to you, and to Bethany Lyn Brown from the mother of another Bethany Lyn.

MRS. HULL

DEAR ABBY: I have read that the quality of one's voice changes with age, and I'm sure it's true. And that is my problem because my husband said to me the other day: "I can't help it, but your voice just grates on my nerves!"

I have always been considered a good conversationalist and my personality has been described as "bubbling." But now I am so self-conscious about my voice I don't talk any more than I absolutely have to.

Kingston Chapter 411 of the Order of Eastern Star observed its fifty-fourth anniversary at a regular meeting Wednesday evening in the Masonic Temple. The Deputy Grand Matron of District 23 paid an official visit to the chapter that night.

The business meeting was conducted by the Worthy Matron, Mrs. Dwight Williams, who read a poem on "birthdays" and sang, "Aint They Sweet". Past Matrons and Patrons were honored and each received a pink carnation. It was announced that the annual chapter inspection would take place at a regular meeting on May 2.

During the social hour, participation games were enjoyed. Mrs. Williams and her refreshment committee served the birthday cake from a table with a valentine motif for the centerpiece and Mrs. Leslie Dearth and Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett presiding at the coffee and tea services.

The next regular meeting is March 7.

Mrs. James Seymour returned home last Tuesday after spending a few days with her nephew, Berle Seymour and family at their home in Columbus. Rhonda Meadows of Tarlton spent the weekend with Mrs. Seymour.

Mrs. Phillip Davis, County Line Road, has accepted a position with the Hartsough Insurance Agency in Chillicothe.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eisenman and daughter, Kimberly, of Columbus were Sunday afternoon callers at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brooks and son, Joe Jr. The occasion was Kimberly's third birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Brown of Circleville were Sunday evening callers at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carroll, enroute home from a weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ren Greene in Ironton.

Mrs. Clarence Allgire (Thelda Meadows) entered St. Vincent's Hospital in Toledo on Monday and will undergo surgery on Wednesday.

Mrs. Rhondeau Counts lead the discussion on 'Property and Auto Insurance' when the newly organized Home M

Stephanie Mesner, Mike Holbrook Chosen Students Of Month

Stephanie Mesner and Mike Holbrook have been selected BPO Elks students of the month for January, according to John Fissell, chairman of that organization's Youth Committee.

The two students will receive $25 bonds. Youth Committee members are Terry Anderson, Charles Steinhauer and William Trego.

Miss Mesner, a junior at Teays Valley High School, is the daughter of Mrs. Esther Mesner, 39 Long St., Ashville.

She is a member of the Pep Club, Drama Club, Future Nurses' Club, Spanish Club and Latin Club, the TV Chorus and the yearbook staff. She has been on the honor roll for three years and has been in the finals of scholarship testing twice.

Outside school, she is pianist for Ashville's First Baptist Church and is secretary of the Baptist Youth Group.

In letters of recommendation from Teays Valley teachers, 16-year-old Stephanie is described as "an excellent student with about a 4 point grade average. Her character is above reproach and she is faithful to her family and church."

Another wrote: "In my opinion I have no student who is more deserving of this type of recognition."

Mike, 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Holbrook, Route 1, Circleville. He is a senior at Logan Elm High School.

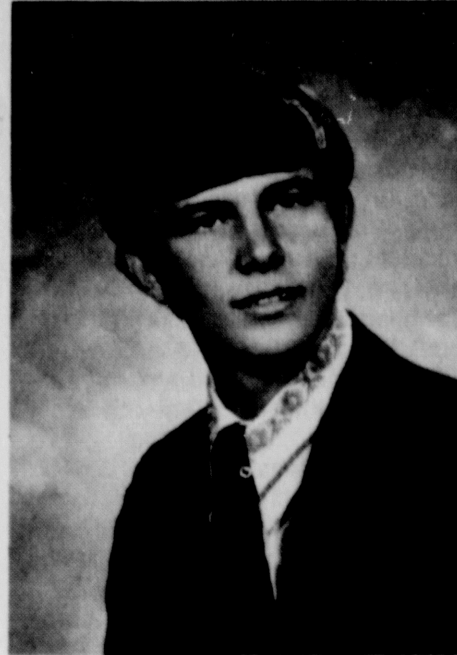

He has played varsity basketball and baseball for the Braves and is a tri-captain of this year's basketball squad. In baseball, he was selected honorable mention in the Scioto Valley conference last year.

He is a member of the Varsity Club, Choir, Pep Club, Boys Ensemble and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. He is also active in his church, being song leader and librarian, besides singing in the choir.

"Mike has excelled as a student, a school citizen, an athlete, and a person while I have known him," a teacher wrote in recommending him for the award. "He is the type of individual which a person would want his own son or daughter to emulate."

2 American POWs Arrive Home; Mothers Are Ill

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — "I told her the prodigal child is home. There's no reason now she shouldn't get better," says one of the first two released American prisoners of war to reach home soil.

Within minutes after the end of a long flight from Clark Air Base in the Philippines, Navy Cmdr. Brian D. Woods was at the bedside of his critically ill mother at a hospital in suburban Coronado.

Woods said she told him, "God has rewarded my prayers."

Asked how he felt, Woods replied, "I'm feeling on top of the world."

The return of Woods and Air Force Maj. Glendon W. Perkins of Orlando, Fla., whose mother is also gravely ill, was capped with anxiety Tuesday night when their plane developed mechanical problems on the approach to Miramar Naval Air Station.

The pilot of the C141 military transport radioed that he could not get his flaps down for a landing, and the aircraft circled for nearly an hour until the problem was solved.

When it finally touched down, Woods and Perkins appeared healthy and in obviously good spirits as they strode from the plane.

In a brief statement, Woods said:

"We are proud to be Americans; we are proud to have served our country and our commander-in-chief."

Then he walked into the waiting arms of his wife, Paula, and embraced his father, retired Navy Rear Adm. R.W.D. Woods. His three children — Cathleen, 10; Christopher, 8; and Michael, 7 — stood nearby.

The family was whisked quickly to the hospital, and Woods said later, "I'm happy to be back and there's one hell of a great bunch of guys coming right behind me."

From Miramar, Perkins flew on to Maxwell Air Force Base, near Montgomery, Ala., arriving early today in a driving rainstorm.

Walking past the car in which sat his wife, Kay, Perkins stepped to a microphone to say he was "most grateful to the American people whose faith, determination and prayers made this homecoming possible."

Families Of Latest Ohioans Freed Express Happiness

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"I know I'll scream when I see him ... it's my prerogative as a woman," exclaimed Suzanne Wideman of Lakewood after learning her son is on the latest list of prisoners of war to be released by the North Vietnamese.

"It's either that or burst a blood vessel," she said. "I've been like a taut bowstring."

Mrs. Wideman said she was advised at about noon Tuesday that her son, Navy Lt. Robert E. Wideman, was among 20 American officers to be released within the next few days.

The list also included Air Force Capt. Edward J. Mechenbier of Dayton, and a former Ohioan, Air Force Maj. James R. Berger, whose family at one time lived in Mansfield.

Mrs. Wideman said her son will be sent to Clark Air Base in the Philippines and then to Philadelphia, where she, Wideman's wife, Patricia, who lives there, and Wideman's father, who lives in Florida, will be reunited with him.

Mrs. Wideman said she was thankful to note that the prisoners appeared to have been treated well. She said she had a brother who was a German POW during World War II and, "When he came home he was thin as a rail. He must have weighed only about 95 pounds."

Wideman has been a prisoner since last May. His mother is a registered nurse in Lakewood.

Mechenbier's widowed mother, Helen, declined to comment in Dayton on her son being on the latest list of POWs, other than to say she was pleased.

Mechenbier's wife, Claudia, who also lives in Dayton, could not be reached for comment.

Hornet Hatchback: the sports car with room to travel in.

A station wagon looks like a station wagon. The Hornet Hatchback looks as sporty as it moves and handles. (Even sportier, with an optional Levi's interior. Bucket seats with the classic blue denim look. Orange stitching and copper buttons. Even the traditional Levi's tab.)

The Hatchback carries a big load: 23 cubic feet worth of whatever, with the back seat folded down. And it has a big back door, for easy access.

Under the hood, it's an economy car. So it saves you money on gas, maintenance and insurance (save up to 20% with some companies, with optional recoverable rear bumpers).

Our suggested retail price for the Hornet Hatchback is a sporty $2449* Which includes something other manufacturers don't offer you: the American Motors' Buyer Protection Plan.

AMERICAN MOTORS BUYER PROTECTION PLAN

1. A simple, strong guarantee. When you buy a new 1973 car from an American Motors dealer, American Motors Corporation guarantees to you that, except for tires, it will pay for the repair or replacement of any part it supplies that is defective in material or workmanship. This guarantee is good for 12 months from the date the car is first used or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first. All we require is that the car be properly maintained and cared for under normal use and service in the fifty United States or Canada, and that guaranteed repairs or replacement be made by an American Motors dealer.
2. A free loaner car from almost every one of our dealers if guaranteed repairs take overnight.
3. Special Trip Interruption Protection.
4. And a toll free hot line to AMC Headquarters.

Circleville Meets Greenfield In SCOL Title Confrontation

The South Central Ohio League title race boils down into a final night of action Friday when the Circleville Tigers travel to Greenfield and Washington C. H. hosts Miami Trace in key tilts. Hillsboro will be at Wilmington in the remaining league contest.

Circleville, Washington C.H. and Miami Trace are all tied for the league lead with marks of 6-3. Circleville can grab a share of the title with a win at Greenfield with the winner of the Trace-Washington clash sharing the honors.

The Red and Black stopped Greenfield, 75-69, Jan. 12 on the Roundtown court but will have to face the Tigers in the confines of the band-box at Greenfield where anything can happen. Despite its 0-9 mark in SCOL play, Greenfield has come up with some tight games and can be counted on to act the role of the spoilers.

"Our whole league season is wrapped up in this game and we have to win if we are going to share the title," Circleville Coach John Lawhorn stated. "Greenfield is a team that can hurt you and has enough personnel to do the job. Our boys know what has to be done and they will be out to do it."

Greenfield carries an offensive game average of 59.3 and has allowed the opposition 76.9 points per contest. Buddy Kennedy, 5-foot-9 guard, leads the Greenfield attack and is the leading scorer in the SCOL, with a game average of 20.9. He is a great driver and always displays plenty of hustle. Larry Crabtree, a 6-foot forward, is the second top scorer with a 15.5 average per game. He is a good shooter and top rebounder.

Rounding out the starting lineup for Greenfield will be: Dan Raikie, 5-foot-8 guard; George Hamilton, 6-foot forward; and Bob Trego, 6-foot center.

Circleville has a second record of 13-4 with marks of 7-2 at home and 6-2 on the road. The Red and Black is averaging 69.5 points per game while limiting the opposition to 56.1 per contest.

The Tigers have been getting balanced scoring up front with Dave Truex, 6-foot forward, pacing the attack with 17.9 per game. Dan Graham, 6-foot-2 center, is averaging 15.2 a game and Greg Hoskins, 6-foot-1 forward, is hitting the nets at a 14.1 clip.

The starting guards for Circleville will be: Robin Martin, 5-foot-10, 8.2 points per game and Doug Radabaugh, 5-foot-9, 3.7 markers per contest.

Coach Dennis Stewart's reserve squad will be out to wrap up the league title in the opener. They are sporting a 7-2 mark and lead second place Washington C. H. who is 6-3.

Lefty Driesell's Terrapins Fall To Tar Heels, 95-85

GORDON D.S.PETERSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lefty Driesell took his show out of town and it bombed again.

Driesell and his 10th-ranked Maryland basketball team played sixth-ranked North Carolina Wednesday night and the Tar Heels brought the curtain down 95-85 in an Atlantic Coast Conference clash.

Maryland lost its third successive ACC game on the road and fell into third place in the conference.

Darrell Elston sank six straight free throws in the last six minutes of the game to help stave off a Maryland rally down the stretch. Maryland, down by as many as 17 points in the second half, crept to within six points with six minutes remaining. North Carolina then went into its patented four-corner stall and the Terrapins gambled and fouled Elston.

In other action involving ranked teams, the ninth-ranked St. John's Redmen were upset by the Syracuse Orangemen 80-70 thus snapping a 14-game winning streak for St. John's. Jacksonville, No. 12, was ambushed by unranked Florida State 83-74.

In other college action, Villanova beat Canisius 76-69, Clemson blasted

Wake Forest 86-61, St. Bonaventure edged Xavier, Ohio 68-63, Oral Roberts bested Illinois State 111-96, Louisiana State beat Tulane 73-63 and Temple defeated George Washington 84-71.

Driesell said that he wonders sometime about the ACC. "I sometimes wonder about this conference. I think there may be too much emphasis placed on winning."

Ali Declared Victor Over Joe Bugner

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Muhammad Ali came up with a commodity in short supply for him in these days of davaluation of the dollar—an opponent who looks good against him.

The former heavyweight champion of the world collected $275,000 for his Wednesday night fight against England's Joe Bugner who forced him to 12 full rounds before losing a close decision.

Designated Hitter System Draws Lukewarm Reaction

By HUBERT MIZELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Baseball's revolutionary "DH"—the designated hitter—has received only lukewarm endorsement from the nation's sports writers in an Associated Press poll with only 56 per cent in favor of the American League innovation.

"It'll liven up baseball, a game that has gone from the national pastime to the national wastetime," —"It's okay, but what the game really needs is an owner like Bill Veeck in each league with his clowns, midget players and morning games with breakfast."

That's a couple of the "yes" voters talking. They are among the 172 of 309 writers and broadcasters who back the AL plan of putting a batter-only into the lineup to hit for the pitcher.

Proponents claim the DH will increase the number of hits and runs, will hypo attendance and eliminate the useless activity of sending a weak-swinging pitcher to the plate.

On the other side, there's the constant complaint that it will cut into managerial strategy, will cheapen statistical records and also allow overweight, over-the-hill hitters to stick around in the major leagues.

"It doesn't seem like baseball," says Craig Stolz of the Rochester, N.Y., Democrat and Chronicle, who saw the designated hitter tried in the Class AAA International League.

"Heaven help the game if it ever goes to offensive and defensive platoons."

Bonnies Turn Back Xavier

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fans at the St. Bonaventure-Xavier basketball game Wednesday night should have been charged double admission, according to Musketeer Coach Dick Campbell. He figures they saw two games.

"The people who were here should have had to leave at halftime and pay to come back for the second half," he said after the Bonnies downed Xavier 68-63. "There were two different games in two different halves."

St. Bonaventure charged ahead early and held a 40-26 advantage at halftime. But Xavier came back strong after intermission and grabbed a brief 55-54 lead late in the game before the visitors regained control for good.

As it turned out, both teams hit 28 field goals, with the Bonnies winning the contest at the foul line, 12-7.

Meanwhile, fans at the Cleveland Arena actually did see two games Wednesday night as Bowling Green beat Cleveland State 96-80 and Akron defeated Kent State 75-67 in a college twin bill.

Led by forward Cornelius Cash with 23 points, Bowling Green built up a 14-point lead in the first half and coasted the rest of the way.

"I've seen us play much better as a team defensively," Cleveland State Coach Ray Dieringer said later, "but when you're throwing in 52 per cent as BG did you're throwing in a lot."

Akron jumped ahead early en route to its 15th triumph in 19 starts. Forward Len Paul pumped in 18 points and snagged 10 rebounds.

"We threw it away," Kent Coach Frank Truitt lamented. "They put it to us early and they made 14 points on our 11 turnovers in the first half. We just never recovered."

Cincinnati survived an Ohio University rally to edge the Bobcats 79-78. Dave Johnson and Jesse Jemison paced the Bearcats with 21 and 19 points, respectively, while

Sam Houston Still On Top In Cage Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sam Houston State has convinced all but two of the voters in The Associated Press poll that it is the best small college basketball team in America.

State, 20-0 for the season, received 13 of the 15 first place ballots cast and earned 296 points for a wide lead over Augustana.

The other two No. 1 votes went to Augustana and unranked Bluefield.

Sam Houston State retained its No. 1 rating with three impressive victories last week, including one over third-ranked Stephen F. Austin, 81-67.

Augustana won its two games last week to remain No. 2 and Austin remained third despite the loss to Sam Houston. Philadelphia Textile and Assumption, Mass., both won twice last week and exchanged places in the poll, with Textile moving to No. 4 and Assumption slipping to fifth.

Roanoke remained No. 6 with two victories last week and Wisconsin-Eau Claire took over No. 7 after running its record to 15-3 with a pair of victories. Louisiana Tech and Kentucky State, seventh and ninth respectively a week ago, met at eighth place, tied with 92 points.

Wisconsin-Milwaukee, 18-3 for the season, remained No. 10.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points. Points tabulated on basis of 20-18-16-14-12-10-8-6-4-2:

1. Sam Houston	(13)	20-0	296
2. Augustana, Ill.	(1)	20-1	244
3. S.F. Austin		20-3	182
4. Phila. Textile		19-1	164
5. Assumption		15-1	152
6. Roanoke		16-4	110
7. Wis-Eau Claire		15-3	108
8. Louisiana Tech		14-5	92
9. Kentucky State		17-3	92
10. Wis-Milwaukee		18-3	32

Eyeglasses Sparks Akron Star In Win

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An eyeglass for an eyeglass. That's one method Akron Central-Hower High School basketball players use to score victories.

Don Thornton, Central-Hower's 6-foot-4 senior center, shattered the left lens in his glasses during the first half last week against Akron Kenmore.

Thornton continued to play the half with only his right lens. He shot wildly and missed a couple of passes because of his poor visibility, however.

Tom Beaver, a team substitute, talked with Thornton at halftime and discovered they had the same eye defect.

Beaver popped the left lens in his glasses, gave it to Thornton and he wound up with 16 points and 10 rebounds, leading a 74-64 triumph.

Around Ohio: Canton Lehman, top-ranked in Class AAA, has extended its regular season winning streak to 29 games. The old mark was 25 in a row in 1945-47 under Coach Jimmy Robinson, now the director of Ohio's high school all-star football contest.

Lehman, incidentally, is barely a Class AAA school and goes back into the Class AA ranks next season with a smaller enrollment. The Polar Bears won the Ohio Class AA tournament crown two years ago.

Three of Class A football runnerup Lorain Clearview's players play basketball well, too. Larry Harris, a wide receiver, is averaging 24.4 points as a 6-6 center, all-state tailback Otis Jenkins 15.5 as a 6-1 guard and Larry Fortner, a quarterback, 12.8 as a 6-5 forward.

Dan Hagen, Columbia Station's 6-7 senior center, has become Lorain County's alltime scorer with 1,842 points in 81 games, a 22.6 average. The school has retired his jersey number. He has a 25.8 average this winter, including 45 Saturday night for another school mark.

Carl McIlwain, 6-4 Andover Pymatuning Valley senior, cracked a school record with 50 points against Perry of Lake County Friday night.

Steubenville Catholic became the first Ohio school to whip Wellsville at home in more than three years. The 54-53 victory was accomplished without the team's No. 2 scorer, 6-4 Dave Slomski, lost for the year. He hurt a knee in practice.

Three of Akron's top players are No. 1 men on their schools' golf teams: 6-6 Dave Speicher of Ellet, 6-foot Dave Buhas of Garfield and 5-10 Dave Barnes of Buchtel. Speicher leads Akron in scoring with almost 24 points a game.

Springfield South committed only one foul and hit 60 per cent of its shots in the first 20 minutes to stun Waverly, Ohio's top-ranked Class AA five. South was the first Class AAA foe to beat Waverly after the Tigers defeated eight big schools this season.

Delaware Hayes has its first league championship in 21 years. New coach of the Pacers is Dan Baker, who led Northwestern of Wayne County to a state tournament title and later guided Marion Harding to the big school finals.

Rules Explained For Wheelchair Basketball Tilt

The Pickaway County Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults promises an exciting evening of Wheelchair Sports Feb. 24 at Mill St. Gym at 8 p.m. The Columbus Buckeye Wheelers will play against the Cincinnati Spinners.

Half time entertainment will be equally as exciting with demonstrations of archery and pin pong, both players Paralympic winners (Olympics for wheelchair athletes). Wheelchair Basketball rules have a very few exceptions.

These exceptions are: Player — Any individual who, because of permanent severe leg disability or paralysis of the lower portion of his body is eligible. Wheelchair — The approved chair is the standard Everest & Jennings Universal Model or its equivalent. Seat cushions of 2" to 4" are permitted. Contact — The chair is considered a part of the player. General rules of contact in regular basketball (charging, blocking, etc.) apply.

Jump ball — For any jump ball, each jumper shall remain firmly seated in his chair and shall be in the jumping circle at a 45 degree angle to his own basket. Time Limits — An offensive player cannot remain more than six seconds in the free throw lane while his team is in possession of the ball.

Dribble — A man with the ball in his possession can take no more than two consecutive pushes in either direction. If he has taken two pushes, he must (1) shoot, (2) pass, or (3) bounce the ball before pushing again. Any more than three consecutive pushes by a man with the ball in his possession constitutes a traveling violation.

Loss of Ball — If a man in possession of the ball makes any physical contact with the floor or tilts his chair so far forward the footrests touch the floor, it is a violation and the ball is awarded to the other team. Out of Bounds — A player is considered out of bounds when he or any part of his wheelchair touches the floor on or outside the boundary.

Physical Advantage Foul — It is strictly enforced that a player remain firmly seated in the wheelchair at all times. An infraction of this rule constitutes a physical advantage foul. A free throw is awarded. Three such fouls disqualify a player from the game. Falling — If a competitor falls out of his chair during play, the officials will immediately suspend play if there is any chance of danger to the fallen player. If not, the officials will withhold their whistles until the particular play in progress has been completed. If a player falls out of his chair to gain possession of the ball or by falling keeps his opponents from gaining possession of the ball, the ball is awarded to the opposing team.

Tickets are available at Bingmans, Super X, Risch Durgs and from Easter Seal members.

Pacers Edge Tams, 129-125

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When is losing almost like winning? When you're beaten by the Indiana Pacers, says Coach Bob Bass of Memphis.

"We were beaten by the league champions in overtime and that shouldn't affect morale," said Bass after his Tams dropped a 129-125 decision to the Pacers Wednesday night.

The Pacers outscored the stubborn Tams in the overtime period with the help of field goals by Darnell Hillman and Donnie Freeman.

"I was encouraged by the way we came from behind to tie the game," Bass said regarding Les Hunter's two free throws with six seconds left in regulation that sent the match into overtime.

In the night's other ABA games, the Utah Stars blitzed the New York Nets 117-90 and the Kentucky Colonels tripped the Denver Rockets 111-103.

County Junior High Tournament Planned At LE

The Logan Elm Booster Club made plans for the county junior high basketball tournament it will sponsor Feb. 20 and Feb. 24 at McDowell School.

The Booster-sponsored event will pit Circleville against Teays Valley at 4:30 p.m. in the first game and Logan Elm against Westfall at 5:45 p.m. in the second. There will be a foul shooting contest prior to the game and at halftime.

Between games there will be fifth and sixth grade games. The annual basketball banquet has been tentatively scheduled March 16.

Braves' Frosh Blast Piketon

Logan Elm's freshman cagers crushed Piketon, 68-19, Wednesday on the Braves' floor to run their season record to 11-2.

The Braves were in command all the way and led at the end of each period, 22-2, 39-8, 52-15 and 68-19.

Reichelderfer led the Logan Elm attack with 17 points, Allen added 10, Maxson had nine, Miller, Sargent, Linthicum and Hildenbrand each tallied six, Rawlins hooped five and Dean had three. Robinson was high for Piketon with eight markers.

Logan Elm will meet Southeastern 6:30 p.m. Friday in the Westfall Invitational tournament at the Mustangs' gym.

The NCAA fencing championships will be held March 15-17 at Baltimore.

76ers Win; Bucks Fall

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Philadelphia 76ers are still having trouble putting the ball in the basket, but that doesn't stop them from winning a game once in a while.

Losers in their last 20 contests, the National Basketball Association's worst team finally came up with a victory—but needed a goal-tending call to do it Wednesday night.

"Tremendous," shouted a jubilant Kevin Loughery, the 76ers' coach, after his bunch defeated the Bucks 106-104 on a goal-tending call against Milwaukee's Dick Cunningham with 16 seconds left.

The winning goal, credited to Fred Boyd, sent the 76ers charging into their dressing room amid shouts and hoops. It appeared that they had won the NBA title.

"We beat a real, good club, too," added Loughery, who took over the wobbly team this year after Roy Rubin was fired. "Leroy Ellis was unbelievable. He scored 36 points and did everything a basketball player could do. And he even blocked their last shot."

In the other NBA games Wednesday night, the Chicago Bulls nipped the New York Knicks 100-98; the Boston Celtics trimmed the Kansas City-Omaha Kings 104-101; the Baltimore Bullets stopped the Seattle SuperSonics 107-106 and the Phoenix Suns smashed the Buffalo Braves 124-107.

Soap Derby Not Dead

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The All-American Soap Box Derby has about $175,000 for this year's austerity running, said George W. Brittain, the man keeping the wheels rolling, and expects $70,000 more.

Brittain announced last week the derby will go on again this year, on Aug. 18, despite General Motors Corp. Chevrolet Division's having dropped out as its sponsor.

Chevrolet still will provide $30,000 in scholarships for the top nine racers, however, Brittain said, adding it had agreed last year to do so.

Youth Proves Top Wrestler Despite Losing Part Of Leg

WEST LIBERTY, Ohio (AP) — David Hess wins high school wrestling matches on 1 1/2 legs.

The 17-year-old West Liberty Salem High School senior lost his left leg at the knee in a freak farm accident three years ago.

At first, the partial loss of his limb turned the Logan County youngster into an introvert.

"I used to be afraid to go in front of people because of my leg," Hess recalled. "Wrestling has helped me get over my shyness."

Hess has an artificial leg, but Ohio high school rules forbid him to wear it during matches. So he has to take on opponents in a kneeling position.

Despite such a handicap, Hess rolled up nine victories in his first 13 matches this season. He wrestles at 138 pounds.

Hess lost his leg spreading straw for cows on his dad's 600-acre farm Southwest of Bellefontaine.

He caught his boot in a tractor's power takeoff device while jumping off of it. Before he could free himself, the tractor took off. His leg was nothing more than mangled skin and bones below the left knee.

"I knew I wasn't going to be able to keep the leg as soon as I looked at it," he remembered.

However, the oldest of five children hasn't let the accident slow his daily routine.

He's up at 6 every morning milking cows. Then there's school, followed by more farm work. It's back to school for wrestling in midafternoon. Additional chores at home wind up a long day by 9 p.m.

"Sure, things were a little tough after the accident," Hess admitted. "Everything was a little different for a while. But I have learned to do just about everything I did before."

"I can't run as fast as before and I can't play football," he continued, "but I can milk cows. I try to do whatever I can the best that I can."

"He wants and gives no quarter. He provides us with inspiration," said Al Kiern, the wrestling coach at West Liberty-Salem.

North Viets Rebuilding

SAIGON (AP)—North Vietnam said today it is recovering from devastation caused by U.S. air raids and forecast an increased output in light industry, exports and consumer goods.

Hanoi's Vietnam News Agency said all of the factories in North Vietnam are resuming production and evacuated machinery is being returned to production sites.

President Nixon halted massive air attacks in the Hanoi-Haiphong industrial heartland Dec. 30, then extended the cessation to include all of North Vietnam on Jan. 15. The peace agreement was signed in Paris on Jan. 27, and the cease-fire went into effect the next day.

North Vietnam also reported it is restoring communications, transport and housing.

A stepped-up campaign has begun to restore the damaged docks and stores of Haiphong, the agency reported.

Chavez To Speak At Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — United Farm Workers leader Cesar Chavez will speak Friday night at the University of Cincinnati and on Saturday morning lead a demonstration downtown.

His appearance at the school is being sponsored by a new Students for the United Farm Workers organization on the campus.

Chavez will lead a downtown march at 9 a.m. Saturday with a rally at a supermarket.

He will be accompanied by 70 farm workers from California, New Mexico and Arizona, the university said.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Think in terms of your long-range plans that have scope and significance to them, then you will be able to make real headway into gaining the progress that you want. However, you need to systematize and handle these matters wisely. If you have some unfinished jobs that can bring you success, concentrate upon them now.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Talk over with right people your finest aims and gain their ideas and cooperation so you attain them more quickly, successfully. Show you are a person of real ability. Evening is best spent at home.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Sit down with those at home and try to harmonize your ideas and efforts more wisely so everyone is happier and more successful. Use different tactics and get better results with long-range aims. Show you have determination.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Making appointments early with persons who can help you gain your aims and keeping them on time is best way to proceed now. Find the right methods to make big headway with allies, both new and old. Forget all that extravagance.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Study property well and see where you can make improvements that are necessary, which add to its intrinsic value. Long-range plan may require signing agreements. Study them well first. Avoid one who bickers too much.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Listen to what your best pal has to say regarding some personal aim you have and follow excellent advice. Get together with friends at social affairs and fine results follow. A good evening for the theater.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) An expert can give you advice in a confidential way, so be sure to get it and use it wisely, make the changes that are necessary. Follow your intuition which is accurate, also. Forget that flirtatious interlude.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have to study those new ideas you have more if you're to put them into successful operation. Take the right steps that will bring more harmony with a good friend. You have been quite matter-of-fact lately.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you get in touch with an expert and talk over that plan you have in mind, you then know for sure what to do about it. Hit on the right system, also. Confide in mate in p.m. and get good advice.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Look at those plans you have for the future with a clear eye and know what must be done to make them operate successfully. Make that change that is wise. New contacts can give you very good suggestions, also.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Your hunches are very good and can give you the clue as to what should be done insofar as important matters are concerned. Cooperate more with co-workers. Listen to what mate has to say and understand the true picture.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Talk over with an associate how to have a more harmonious and profitable alliance in the future. Make that decision re public work and be sure it improves your reputation. Avoid some social affair that is not your cup of tea.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Make your home more charming or your place of work more attractive and impress co-workers more with your fine talents. Gain the support of outsiders for other matters. Try to retire fairly early tonight.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will be one of those very serious-minded young people who will want to map out a future for himself or herself early based on practical and worthy lines to last a lifetime, and will never be guilty of trying to build on sand. Be sure to plan for the finest education and give as much moral support as you can, as well as cultural advantages that will open new doors of opportunity. Musical talent here, also.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Two 30-second commercials about a common female complaint are scheduled to broadcast here this weekend on WCBS-TV. They'll try to sell an idea instead of a product.

Their message is that job discrimination because of sex is just plain stupid. The commercials, called public service announcements, are being shown at no cost to the sponsor.

The sponsor is the National Organization for Women NOW, an activist women's rights group that hopes 'CBS' four other television stations and other broadcasters will run the ads.

Both commercials are low-key. One shows a baby girl, with an off-screen female voice saying: "This healthy, normal baby had a handicap: She was born female."

"When she grows up, her job opportunities will be limited and her pay low," the voice says, adding that job discrimination based on sex is both illegal and a waste of human resources.

The other commercial illustrates the waste by showing a young woman, with a college degree and academic honors, being interviewed by a man in the personnel department.

"You know, of course, that we start all our girls in the typing pool," he tells her.

The commercials, filmed last October at CBS' owned-and-operated station in Philadelphia, were put together by NOW members with the CBS Television network footing the production costs.

They came after two years of work by NOW members to find a way of starting a free national campaign to get their message across to the public, says Midge Kovacs, a NOW official here.

Although WCBS-TV officials say they'll run the ads, their counterparts at CBS-owned stations in Philadelphia, St. Louis, Chicago and Los Angeles still have to decide if they'll carry them.

But at least it's a start, says Midge Kovacs.

"We hope these announcements will raise questions in people's minds as to women's role in our society and if women have been fairly treated," she said.

Circleville Jaycees Name Dale Bower OYF Winner

"In 1960, I left Ohio State to plant corn when my father became ill. I have been farming ever since," said Dale E. Bower, Route 1, Circleville, who has been selected the Jaycee's Outstanding Young Farmer of the year.

"I began by earning weekly wages which eventually advanced to a partnership with my father. Since I was raised on the farm, I've really never had any other interest. I enjoy working with cattle and the equipment. At the time, my goals were to do the best possible with what I had. Now my feelings are much the same plus I'd like to provide the best possible for my family."

Bower, 33, is married to Jo Ann Spice Bower. They have a 4-month-old child.

He farms about 800 acres in Pickaway Twp. adjacent to the DuPont plant, and has 694 head of cattle.

"We bought 650-pound feeder instead of 800-pound for cheaper gain and better finish weight. Corn screenings were purchased for cheaper gain and we sold our corn. The use of minimum tillage was followed for better yields and less expense," he said.

Bower is a 25-year member of Emmett's Chapel Church and is a member of the Farm Bureau, Farm Bureau council, Pickaway County Farmer's Club, Pickaway County Cattlemen's Association, Ohio Cattlemen's Association and Circleville Elks Lodge.

He will be honored, along with Roger Wolfe, who was selected outstanding young educator, at the Jaycee's Distinguished Service Awards banquet Monday night. At that time, the Jaycees will announce their selection of the Outstanding Young Man.

Movie Ship Found Full Of Marijuana

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP) — U.S. Customs agents made their largest marijuana seizure ever with the confiscation of nearly eight tons of the drug from a Mexican-registered freighter docked in Los Angeles harbor.

A Bureau of Customs spokesman said Wednesday that the marijuana was contained in 384 wooden boxes aboard the "Don Miguel."

The 150-foot freighter once knew movie glory as the ship which sailed "from tedium to apathy" in the film "Mr. Roberts."

Ironically, the award-winning movie "Mr. Roberts," which starred Henry Fonda, Jack Lemmon and James Cagney, concerned the captain's mania for a potted plant.

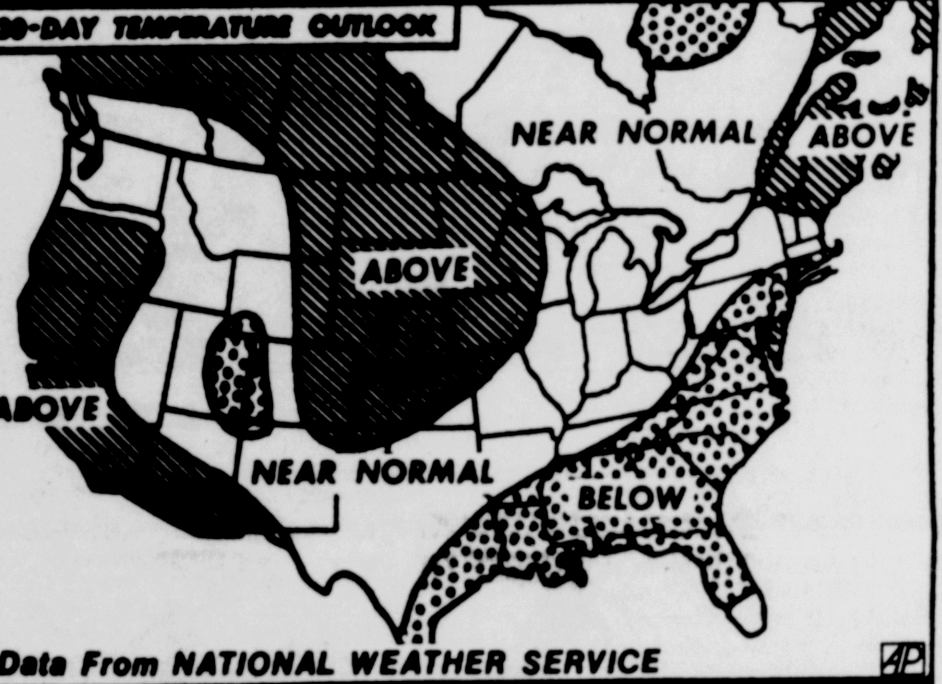

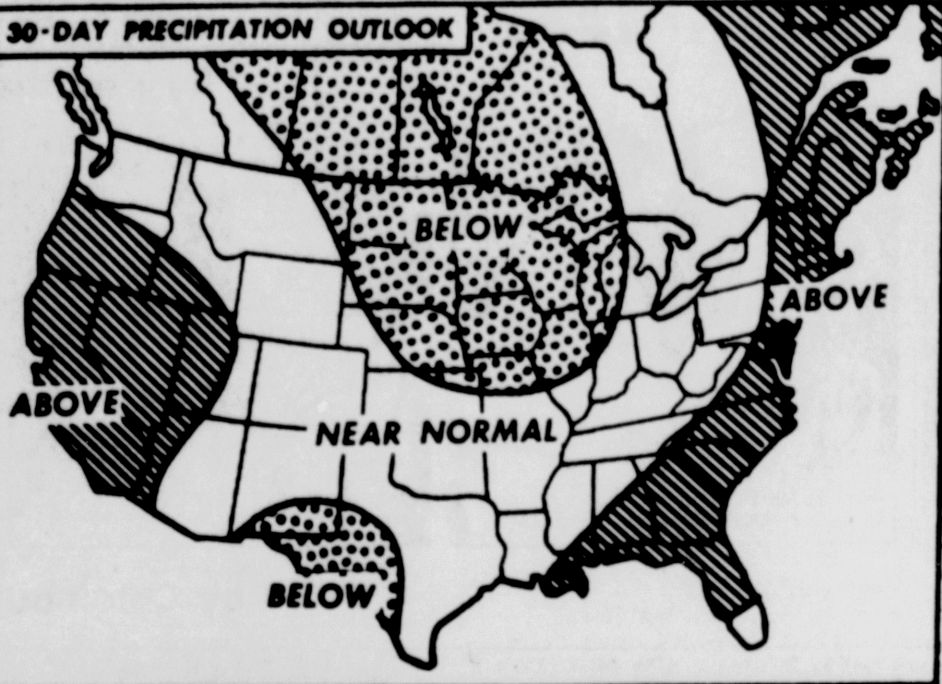

The Don Miguel was being towed to Los Angeles to play a feature role in a forthcoming version of the NBC television series "Ironside" when customs agents boarded it.

The ship had been renamed the "Laro" and had been painted over to look rusty and decrepit for the "Ironside" episode.

SERVICE TO YOUTH—Y Director Harold Hewitt presents the annual service award to Otto Guenther, as an officer of Pickaway Motel Corporation, for his contribution to the YMCA's pre-school swim program. Other award recipients were Dave Amey, of the Circleville Herald, and P.J. Ryle, of WNRE, for their efforts to boost the activities of youths and student groups throughout the county.

WEATHER OUTLOOK — This is the way the weather shapes up for the 30 day period covering the final month of official winter, in terms of precipitation and temperatures, according to the National Weather Service.

Wholesale Prices Shoot Skyward

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices rose sharply in January for the second straight month, largely because of increases in prices of farm products, the government said today.

The report presaged large increases in consumer prices. Likely, the sharp advances in wholesale prices will be reflected soon in the Consumer Price Index.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said the Wholesale Price Index went up by 1.3 per cent in January on an unadjusted basis and 1.1 per cent on a seasonally adjusted basis. Despite the huge increase, the rise was less than the similarly sharp increases in December.

The BLS said that prices of farm products and processed foods and feeds rose by 3.3 per cent, or almost 40 per cent at an annual rate. With the seasonal factors taken in, the rise in prices of farm products was 2.9 per cent.

Despite the big increases in farm and food prices, the report showed that prices of industrial commodities rose less sharply. The industrial commodities index is regarded as one of the most sensitive gauges of inflation in the economy.

According to the report, prices of industrial commodities went up 0.5 per cent on an unadjusted basis and 0.3 per cent on a seasonally adjusted basis.

Man, 92, Says Onion A Day Keeps The Doctor Away

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A 92-year-old steelworker who has no plans to retire says he stays fit by eating an onion a day.

"I love to work, so why should I retire?" says Ricardo Basques, who signed on at the Bethlehem Steel Corp. plant here at the age of 62 in 1943, when the World War II labor shortage was at its height.

Since the United Steel Workers' contract with Bethlehem sets no mandatory retirement age, Basques has just kept on working.

"Of course we encourage most of our people to retire at 65," said Edward Frank, district public affairs manager for Bethlehem. "But Mr. Basques seems to be unique."

On workday mornings, Basques rises at 4:30 a.m. at his home near the plant for a breakfast of bananas and milk. Then his wife, Guadalupe, 61, drives him to work in time for the 7 a.m. shift.

Basques' job is to take 20-pound steel bars as they come out of a metal straightener and stack them in piles for further processing.

He earned about $10,000 last year, Basques said in an interview.

"He functions like an aristocrat with a sense of humor," said one of his two work partners, Ray Ridgeway, 56.

"He will be standing up there catching bars — we always stand up — and he will make like he's picking away at a guitar."

On one recent eight-hour shift, Frank said Basques and his partners handled 8,200 bars, an unofficial plant record.

Basques, a native of Mexico who speaks little English, listed his birthdate on his original application for employment as April 7, 1880, Frank said. An article in a recent issue of the union paper, "Steel Labor," said a baptismal certificate from Mexico had confirmed that date.

Basques said he came to the United States in 1919, worked on a Montana sugar beet ranch for many years and arrived in San Francisco in 1943.

After a coworker drives Basques home at the end of each workday, Basques says he and his wife relax and occasionally have a shot of whisky.

He disclaims any secret explanation for his longevity and endurance, except for one special habit.

"I eat a whole onion every day," Basques said. "Every day of the year."

Dollar Sags On Exchanges

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. dollar sagged on foreign exchanges, and the price of gold reached new peaks today amid widespread doubts over the stability of the world monetary system following devaluation of the American currency.

The dollar opened lower in most centers, but there were signs the decline toward its new official parities was slowing.

Sales of dollars, relatively heavy Wednesday, appeared to be slowing also. But dealers reported no indication speculators had begun buying dollars to reap the profits from the huge amounts of yen, German marks, Dutch guilders or Swiss francs they bought feverishly last week.

The price of gold climbed to new peaks in bullion markets everywhere. Dealers said this was partly a reflection of the upvaluing of the money of South Africa, the world's largest producer of gold, and partly an indication of the uncertainty of small speculators over monetary stability.

The metal's price was fixed in London at $72.80 an ounce, 67½ cents above the previous high at Wednesday's close. It was $73.875 an ounce in Zurich, $73.11 in Frankfurt and a whopping $75.93 in Hong Kong.

The price of official gold, which backs currencies, was set at $42.22 an ounce in the devaluation of the dollar Tuesday.

Naughty Pat Caught Smoking

WASHINGTON (AP) — First lady Pat Nixon surprised reporters by smoking in public this week. Aides said they could not recall it ever happening before.

Mrs. Nixon joined her son-in-law, Navy Lt. (j.g.) David Eisenhower, in having a cigarette after they, the President and Julie Eisenhower dined at Trader Vic's restaurant Tuesday night.

Her smoking was even more of a surprise since the first lady had told reporters in a White House interview that she doesn't smoke. "But who hasn't tried," she had added, teasingly.

Egyptian Jet Shot Down

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli Air Force planes shot down an Egyptian MIG21 jet in a dogfight over the Gulf of Suez today, the Israeli military command announced.

It was the first aerial combat between Israel and Egypt since last June and only the second since the August 1970 ceasefire.

An Israeli spokesman said the Israeli jets were on a reconnaissance flight over the gulf when they were intercepted by several MIGs.

No Israeli aircraft was hit, he said. The spokesman did not say what kind of planes they were.

By Israeli count, the Egyptians now have lost 115 planes in combat since the 1967 Middle East war, compared with 17 Israeli losses to Egypt.
